In today's Gospel the people ask: "How is it such miraculous deeds are accomplished by his hands?" Because of your gift to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul many "miraculous deeds" are accomplished for our neighbors in need. During the month of May we provided over $5,300 in assistance for requests received through the Help Line or during the food bank distribution, mostly for rent and utilities. Each of these neighbor in need who call on us for help has a unique story to tell as to why they are unable to pay for housing or fell behind on their utility bills. One call received was from a veteran with three children who was laid off, actively seeking employment, and fell behind on his rent. Along with help from other local St. Vincent de Paul Societies, we were able to get him caught up with his rent. On the day he was told his rent is current, he accepted a job offer.

The Society hears their calls and answers with the funds available through your generosity. This week please consider putting a gift in the poor box knowing that through your kindness, someone who is suffering will be touched by God in a miraculous way. We are stronger together. Join us by doing what you can to lift up our neighbors in need.

GRIEF SHARE MEETINGS

PASTOR'S NOTES FROM FATHER MIKE

No Prophet is Without Honor...

Have you ever found it to be true that when you are at your lowest point in life you are able to find your greatest strength? It seems that when we have nowhere to go but up, that is exactly what we do. Today our readings speak to us about the role of the prophet, and the struggles they are faced with in life. Generally when we think of any sort of prophet our minds drift towards what we know about the prophets from the history of the Jewish People. Our first reading tells us of the grief that Ezekiel had to endure. He was the first prophet to preach outside of the Holy Land. His mission was to reach the hearts of the people in exile and bring them back home. He showed the people of Israel that their God was extremely mobile and not just found in one place. The people didn't want to be reminded of their transgressions and as a result they gave him a pretty rough time.

In spite of the hardships that the prophets endured, they did complete the tasks God gave them. We hear the same to be true for St. Paul. He speaks of his own personal sufferings which he endured for the sake of Christ. Jesus also in the Gospel endures hardship in delivering his message. The people of his own town were not able to see beyond what they knew of Jesus to hear his message. As a result, their lack of faith prohibited Jesus from working any miracles there. The people lacked faith in Jesus so he went somewhere else. Often we are as unbending in our opinions as were the people of Nazareth. What is our response to people who tell us things we do not want to hear?

A true prophet is one who looks at the world and comes up with solutions and new visions to bring about change and hope in a church or the society in general. The problem is that whenever someone speaks of change no matter how great or small, we usually resist the impulse to change. Their message either goes unheard or unheeded. As we approach our readings for today we can recall the many prophets in our time that were met with opposition and derision. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Fr. Dan Berrigan come to mind during the crucial civil rights movement and the Vietnam War. Mother Teresa is remembered now for her saintly love of the poor, but it is important to remember that, when she first arrived in Calcutta and spoke loudly against ingrained attitudes toward the poor, people stoned her and shouted abusively against her as she would leave her home each day. Prophetic voices warned against going to war in Iraq, among them Pope John Paul II. They were discounted, and the war became a witches' brew of violence and terrorism. So the world has not changed that much since Ezekiel's time.

God speaks
through prophets.

Our church likes to define itself as a community that is always reforming. Yet sometimes it is difficult to see our spiritual leaders moving in that direction. Those who speak out for bold measures are not usually very popular. As a result, they usually do not move up the ladder of leadership. Saint John XXIII, before he became pope, was exiled by the Vatican to Bulgaria because he was considered too progressive. He was removed from the seminary faculty for teaching “unorthodox” theology. Prophets are often ordinary people so we ought to be careful about silencing those who speak courageously and boldly in religion and politics. Let’s not send them into exile. The Holy Spirit is not always in the status quo. Each of us can be a prophet speaking out from our ordinary stations in life and make a difference. It might mean being a prophet without honor in one’s own land, but it is worth the risk.

GLORIA

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise you, we bless, you, we adore you, we glorify you, we give you thanks for your great glory, Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord, you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

THE LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIRST READING

Ezekiel 2:2-5

As the LORD spoke to me, the spirit entered into me and set me on my feet, and I heard the one who was speaking say to me: Son of man, I am sending you to the Israelites, rebels who have rebelled against me; they and their ancestors have revolted against me to this very day. Hard of face and obstinate of heart are they to whom I am sending you. But you shall say to them: Thus says the LORD GOD! And whether they heed or resist—for they are a rebellious house— they shall know that a prophet has been among them.

The Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 123

John Schiavone

Our eyes are fixed on the Lord, pleading for his mercy.

SECOND READING 2 Corinthians 12:7-10

Brothers and sisters: That I, Paul, might not become too elated, because of the abundance of the revelations, a thorn in the flesh was given to me, an angel of Satan, to beat me, to keep me from being too elated. Three times I begged the Lord about this, that it might leave me, but he said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for power is made perfect in weakness." I will rather boast most gladly of my weaknesses, in order that the power of Christ may dwell with me. Therefore, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and constraints, for the sake of Christ; for when I am weak, then I am strong.

The Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL READING

Mark 6:1-6

Jesus departed from there and came to his native place, accompanied by his disciples. When the sabbath came he began to teach in the synagogue, and many who heard him were astonished. They said, "Where did this man get all this? What kind of wisdom has been given him? What mighty deeds are wrought by his hands! Is he not the carpenter, the son of Mary, and the brother of James and Joses and Judas and Simon? And are not his sisters here with us?" And they took offense at him. Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his native place and among his own kin and in his own house." So he was not able to perform any mighty deed there, apart from curing a few sick people by laying his hands on them. He was amazed at their lack of faith.

The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

CREED

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and life of the world to come. Amen.
