PASTOR'S NOTES

Find Strength in God's Loving Presence

Because of what we hear at our liturgy this week our thoughts turn to what it is we fear in life and more importantly, what we are to do about them. In the first reading Isaiah presents us with a poem that he delivered to the people of Israel right before the Assyrians threatened an attack in Jerusalem. The people feared this foreign power and this fear was used as an advantage of the Assyrians to weaken the people. Isaiah tells them as he tells us: "Be strong, fear not! Here is your God..." When we realize and believe that the power of God is within us, we have nothing to fear.

Fear has a way of presenting itself in the most clandestine of ways. This week marks the anniversary of the attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. Our thoughts are carried back to that day when all of America as well as the world watched with fear and a feeling of helplessness as terrorism paralyzed us. As a nation we value power and materialism, to watch that being destroyed left our nation with a feeling of fear and helplessness. As we look back to that fateful day, the question we must ask ourselves is: what have we learned? How have our lives and values changed since that day?

Fear can be a powerful tool in controlling and manipulating how we live and think. We react from fear without much thought and it moves us into actions which might not be who we really are. We have many fears in life, and because of fear, societies break themselves into various class systems. We find ourselves in a certain station in life and that is, sad to say, where we often stay. St. James in the second reading reminds all of us that there should be no separations of people in our society. We should look at, and treat all people the same regardless of what their particular station in life might be, or how different they think or believe.

When we live out of fear we are often deaf and mute to the wrongs that are around us. We are afraid to speak out for fear that we might not be heard or worse, no one really cares to hear what we have to say. Jesus makes the man in the gospel well again. He went from living a life of fear from the darkness and isolation in his life to a world that became full of sounds and sight. He was given a rare opportunity to take a better look at life and what life has to offer.

We too have been given that same opportunity. With the salvation that Jesus brings to our world we are also made well. We should be able to look around and hear the wonderful creation God has given us. We should all have the courage to speak up for the many injustices we encounter on a daily basis. We should never permit fear to keep us from action. Jesus brings a new reality to our world. He makes real that creative power of God to each of us. We need to live out our lives in such a way that we stop being blind, deaf and mute to the many injustices of life. We need to start looking at life and the people in it as all being equal in God's creative power. We are all being well advised to heed the words of Isaiah and not be frightened, rather be strong because our God is with us!

- Father Mike

St. Vincent DePaul Society

In today's Gospel we hear how Jesus "makes the deaf hear and the mute speak!" In living the gospel, we must open our ears to hear and recognize all the everyday opportunities for making God's presence known especially to our neighbors in need and the suffering. On September 9, the Church also celebrates the feast of Blessed Frederic Ozanam, the founder of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. Frederic heard the call of Jesus to love and serve those who are suffering. Through your generosity, almost $6,900 was distributed to our neighbors in need during the month of July. Calls received included assistance with utilities, rent, and gas allotments. The average distribution of funds per request was $265. Your donation, whether big or small, supports vital services to feed, clothe, house, and heal our neighbors in need across our community. Thank you for your continued prayers and caring commitment to help.

THE LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIRST READING

Isaiah 35:4-7a

Thus says the LORD: Say to those whose hearts are frightened: Be strong, fear not! Here is your God, he comes with vindication; with divine recompense he comes to save you. Then will the eyes of the blind be opened, the ears of the deaf be cleared; then will the lame leap like a stag, then the tongue of the mute will sing. Streams will burst forth in the desert, and rivers in the steppe. The burning sands will become pools, and the thirsty ground, springs of water.

The Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 146

Michel Guimont

Praise the Lord, my soul! Praise the Lord!

SECOND READING

James 2:1-5

My brothers and sisters, show no partiality as you adhere to the faith in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ. For if a man with gold rings and fine clothes comes into your assembly, and a poor person in shabby clothes also comes in, and you pay attention to the one wearing the fine clothes and say, "Sit here, please," while you say to the poor one, "Stand there," or "Sit at my feet," have you not made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil designs? Listen, my beloved brothers and sisters. Did not God choose those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom that he promised to those who love him?

The Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL READING

Mark 7:31-37

Again Jesus left the district of Tyre and went by way of Sidon to the Sea of Galilee, into the district of the Decapolis. And people brought to him a deaf man who had a speech impediment and begged him to lay his hand on him. He took him off by himself away from the crowd. He put his finger into the man's ears and, spitting, touched his tongue; then he looked up to heaven and groaned, and said to him, "Ephphatha!"— that is, "Be opened!" — And immediately the man's ears were opened, his speech impediment was removed, and he spoke plainly. He ordered them not to tell anyone. But the more he ordered them not to, the more they proclaimed it. They were exceedingly astonished and they said, "He has done all things well. He makes the deaf hear and the mute speak."

The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

CREED

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and life of the world to come. Amen.
