PASTOR'S NOTES

Solemnity of All Saints' Day — November 1, 2026

In today's second reading, (1 John 3:1-3) Saint John tells us, "Beloved, we are God's children now... Everyone who has this hope based on Him (Jesus) makes himself pure, as he is pure." Today we celebrate the Solemnity of All Saints and the Church reminds us of something true and beautiful: you and I were created to become Saints! Sainthood is not a trophy awarded for a life well lived. It is the very purpose for which God created us. The Church honors today all who have met that purpose. No human being was created for anything less, even when they chose less as we all are tempted to do. But we are wounded. Our first parents fell into temptation and chose against God, and we have inherited that brokenness, along with the wounds of our own lives. Becoming who God created us to be is a lifelong struggle. I want to become a saint, and I know that I cannot become one unless I return each day to a childlike faith.

There is a massive difference between being childlike and being childish in our faith. A childlike faith is rooted in humility. It starts everyday with thank you my Lord and my God. It is trying our best to love God with a patient and innocent trust in His plan for us.

A childish faith, on the other hand, treats God as someone who should conform to our wishes. We want Him to grant our favors, support our plans, and agree with whatever we have decided is best. We turn to Him when we need something, but when life is going our way, we may hardly think of Him at all. That is not the relationship our Father desires. He wants us to know Him and love Him, not simply seek what He can do for our will.

The Holy Spirit knows which saints we need in our lives. Through different circumstances and seasons, He allows us to encounter particular Saints who help us on our journey toward heaven. Think about the saints who have been part of your life. Perhaps you prayed to one regularly years ago but haven't spoken to that saint in quite some time. Perhaps another helped you through a difficult season. Those friendships have not disappeared! The saints haven't gone off to heavenly college! They remain in heaven, united with Christ, praying for us and helping us grow closer to our Lord.

So here is my invitation for All Saints' Day: take a moment to say hello in prayer to the saints who have accompanied you throughout your life. Not simply the saints whose names you know, but those who have truly been your heavenly friends for a time. Mine include Saint Joseph, Saint Jude, Saint Kateri Tekakwitha, Saint Anthony, Saint Lucy, and Saint James. And, of course, our Blessed Mother Mary, Queen of Heaven and Earth, who holds a unique place of honor above all the saints!

Pro-Tip: Don't get discouraged: We aren't Saints yet and we have a lot of work we need the Holy Spirit to do in us: Start Here: Today, simply do more of the things that facilitate your relationship with our Lord and less things that pull you away from Him. You probably know what they are and so do I if we take 20 minutes, think about it and just measure those things for our life.

As we prepare for the upcoming election, Bishop Larry J. Kulick has issued an important pastoral message reflecting on our responsibilities as Catholics and citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Bishop Kulick encourages all faithful to pray, inform their consciences, learn where candidates stand on important issues such as the dignity of human life, education, religious freedom, and immigration, and faithfully exercise their right to vote. All parishioners are encouraged to read Bishop Kulick's complete message and reflect on his call to responsible citizenship and faithful participation in public life. The full message and video are available at theaccentonline.org/Bishop. Bishop Kulick encourages the faithful to take time to read it or watch the video prayerfully as we prepare for Election Day.

A Music Note

For All the Saints

All Saint's Day is my favorite holy day of the year, because every year there is no better hymn to encapsulate the celebration than "For All the Saints". Originally eleven stanzas in length, the poetry was written by William Walsham How (1823-1897) in 1864. Originally eleven stanzas in length, the text celebrates the communion of saints in heaven, the effort of the faithful on Earth to join them in Paradise, and the unity that exists between those on Earth and those in Heaven through Christ. The final stanza depicts the continual procession from death into eternal life of those on Earth who never cease their song of praise.

The text is paired with the tune SINE NOMINE, composed in 1906 by Ralph Vaughn Williams (1872-1958). While there have been several tunes paired with this text, the majestic nature of SINE NOMINE matches the grandeur of the poetry and has become the primary tune. Vaughn Williams was an English composer who wrote sacred and secular music spanning hymn tunes, symphonies, operas, chamber music and vocal solos. He was deeply influenced by the folk tunes of England and throughout his body of work, these melodies are frequently highlighted

The Liturgy of the Word

First Reading — Revelation 7:2-4, 9-14

I, John, saw another angel come up from the East, holding the seal of the living God. He cried out in a loud voice to the four angels who were given power to damage the land and the sea, "Do not damage the land or the sea or the trees until we put the seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God." I heard the number of those who had been marked with the seal, one hundred and forty-four thousand marked from every tribe of the children of Israel. After this I had a vision of a great multitude, which no one could count, from every nation, race, people, and tongue. They stood before the throne and before the Lamb, wearing white robes and holding palm branches in their hands. They cried out in a loud voice: "Salvation comes from our God, who is seated on the throne, and from the Lamb." All the angels stood around the throne and around the elders and the four living creatures. They prostrated themselves before the throne, worshiped God, and exclaimed: "Amen. Blessing and glory, wisdom and thanksgiving, honor, power, and might be to our God forever and ever. Amen." Then one of the elders spoke up and said to me, "Who are these wearing white robes, and where did they come from?" I said to him, "My lord, you are the one who knows." He said to me, "These are the ones who have survived the time of great distress; they have washed their robes and made them white in the Blood of the Lamb."

The Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm — Psalm 24
Michel Guimont

Lord, this is the people that longs to see your face.

Second Reading — 1 John 3:1-13

Beloved: See what love the Father has bestowed on us that we may be called the children of God. Yet so we are. The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Beloved, we are God's children now; what we shall be has not yet been revealed. We do know that when it is revealed we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is. Everyone who has this hope based on him makes himself pure, as he is pure.

The Word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Gospel Reading — Matthew 5:1-12

When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up the mountain, and after he had sat down, his disciples came to him. He began to teach them, saying: "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the Kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they who mourn, for they will be comforted. Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the land. Blessed are they who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be satisfied. Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy. Blessed are the clean of heart, for they will see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God. Blessed are they who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the Kingdom of heaven. Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of evil against you falsely because of me. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven."

The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Creed

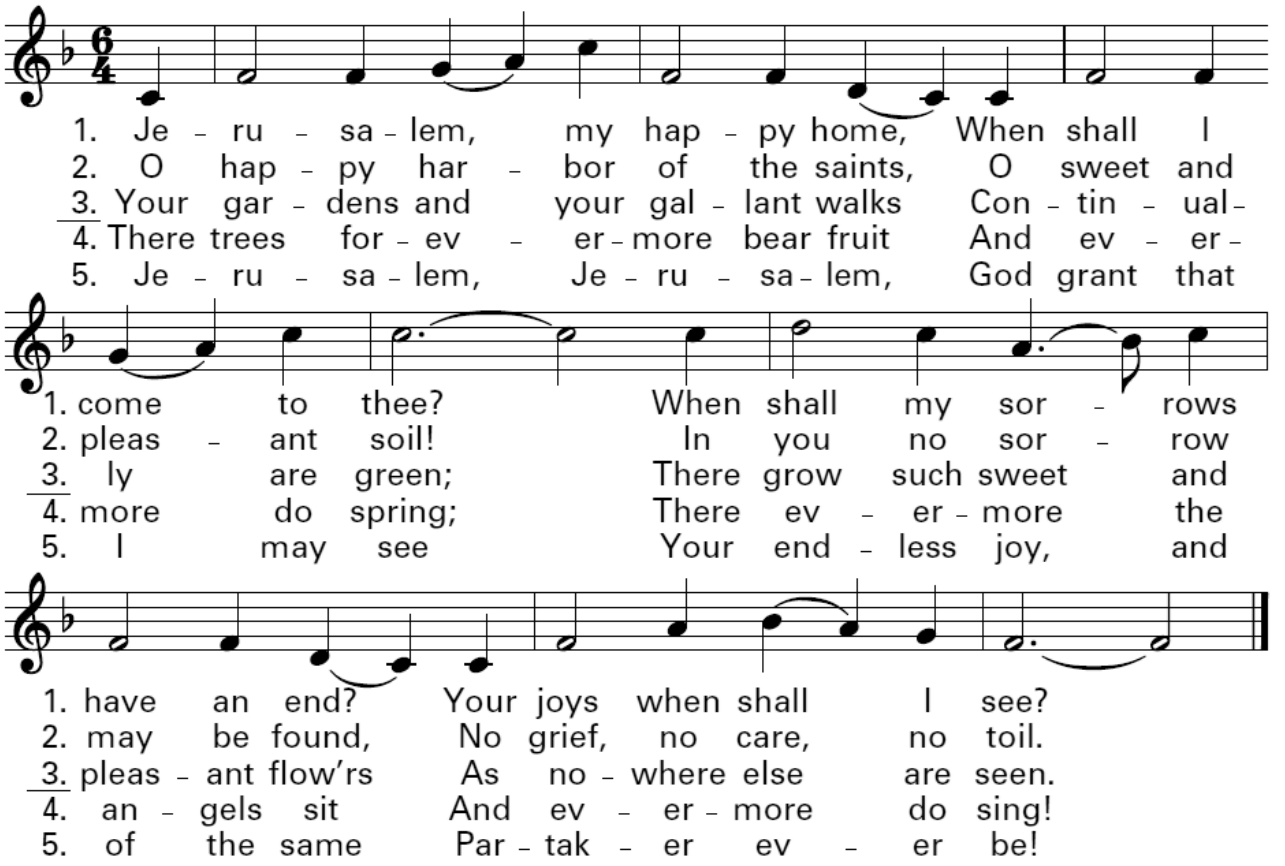

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and life of the world to come. Amen.
