Fr. Michael's Musings

Last weekend I took the opportunity to speak a bit about the financial life of the parish, and I hope the seeds sown bear fruit.

Today I would like to speak a bit about the other ways that a parish family grows and thrives.

I want to thank the many, many people who volunteer their time so faithfully to make St. Mary's a place of blessing and peace.

The ladies who serve funeral lunches, those who clean the church, the youth group, the rosary leaders, the breakfast makers, the religious education teachers, the ushers, lectors and extraordinary Eucharistic ministers, the servers who bring such life and joy to the sacristy, the musicians, cantors, volunteers for the bazaar, gardeners...this is not an exhaustive list by any means, just a hint of the work that makes us who we are.

There is always room for more, and we would be grateful for the support and love you share.

Pause a bit and reflect on what it means to have a place where love is shared, gifts are honored and life is found. We are that place, and you express your gratitude in a wonderful way when you share who you are with us all.

And of course, those who come and pray with us Sunday by Sunday...what a gift.

Keep celebrating the fact that a church is not a building, but a community of faith and life and love. We are that community...together...all of us.

"How much does it cost to buy a membership then never use it?"
