Fr. Michael's Musings

I won't be with you this weekend, or the next, or the next for that matter, as I am with my Guard Unit in Camp Dodge, IA for our Annual Training.

Please keep us, and all who are serving, in your prayers. I will miss standing at the Altar with you all, but will be united to you in prayer and love.

Pentecost!! The Fire of God!! I read many, many years ago this wonderful reflection on the Paschal Season that began so long ago on Ash Wednesday and ends this weekend with Pentecost. It said that God shows his greatness in the Season itself, how He turns all things around. How? Because our Season that began with ashes, ends with Fire!

He makes all things new...even our ashes burst again into flame.

This is important because, as Church, we never celebrate events in the life of Christ or the Church as historical events, but as living realities. We are reborn today! Fire falls upon us today! This is the Day when all things burn with the love of Christ for you!

Be renewed and reborn this Holy Day!
So, we always pray, "Come, Holy Spirit."
Peace be with you all in the days ahead!

"Can I offer you anything?"
