Fr. Michael's Musings

Well, now that we are in-between political conventions, we can take a little breather. We have just a few days to rest our heads and hearts before the next round of political wildness begins.

The conventions remind us that we are moving towards fall...the politicians are focused on the election in November, but the rest of us on the upcoming school year.

So, here we are at the end of July and the summer will be over before we know it. Deacon Tim will soon be leaving us for his last year of Seminary and we wish him all the best, and our support and love. What a gift he has been for us these summer months; and what a fantastic priest he is going to be.

We also remember to keep Fr. Mark Axtmann in our prayers during the weeks ahead as he makes an act of faith in the Lord working through doctors and nurses and aides and surgeons; trusting in the Divine Healer. Our prayers will be deep and heart-felt!

Finally, it's hot, but don't forget to enjoy these last weeks of summer freedom and joy. Fall will be here soon enough, with geese and political ads flocking around us.

Then winter!! And that should motivate you to enjoy these days!! Peace to you and much love.

...and this next song is also about air conditioning.

Just a Thought...

It'll be nice to put the flag at full-staff again
