Fr. Michael's Musings

This coming Tuesday is the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and is a Holy Day of Obligation.

Holy Days of Obligation can be interesting because we tend to focus on the last part of the title... "of Obligation." Yes, we are obligated to attend Mass on this day, but that should not blind us from the most important part...it is a "Holy Day."

The Church sets aside days of such importance and meaning that she bids us rejoice with a joy usually reserved for Sundays. We make this Holy Day a Sunday during the week.

It will, as always, take some effort to make time to come to Mass on Tuesday, but the opportunity to rejoice and to celebrate this first Harvest Festival of the Kingdom of God is such a gift that it is good to remember that the effort is a gift of joy.

So come, celebrate and rejoice with all the Church, not so much because it is an obligation, but because it is a Holy Day; and in this we can remember how to make all our days holy as well.

Holy Mary, assumed into Heaven, continue to pray for our parish, lovingly placed under the mantle of your Motherly love.

We couldn't remember which practice he had tonight.

Just a Thought...

Hey school kids...
Tempus fugit.
