Fr. Michael's Musings

Last Sunday evening...well Sunday night to be exact, I made my way back home. I sat down and had myself some roast beef and potatoes for dinner, with some German coleslaw and beet relish.

It was delicious.

I was tired and hungry, and after dinner I felt the need to unwind a bit before going to bed.

I went and sat outside, looking at the sky and feeling the cool breeze and thinking about the last days.

I thought about so many people, young and old, working so hard, so very, very hard, to bring some joy to others, to make community through a delicious meal.

I thought about the early mornings and the late nights, the hours of meetings to organize, the people who stepped up and said "yes."

I thought how proud I was that so many people from Aberdeen, a city I have always loved, and the surrounding area had a chance to see just how beautiful, loving, joyful and hard-working this parish family is.

The sky was blurry because there were tears in my eyes; and I went to bed, so proud, so blessed to be the Pastor of Saint Mary's Parish. Ihr seid alle schön!

"You missed the part where she asks why he even agreed to go camping if he was just going to complain the whole time."

Thought...*

I love wearing a jacket!
