As the hands on our clocks collectively fall back for one hour this weekend, we will have to face the reality of the deepening darkness earlier in the day. By 5:00 pm, the shadows will fall and twilight will begin.

It seems just like yesterday that we were enjoying sunlight well into 9:00 pm, but this is the nature of our cyclical year.

Yet, as Christians, there is always an opportunity for us to find spiritual meaning and richness in the world around us.

Pope Saint Clement reminds us that each day we have a reminder of the power of the resurrection of Christ. We go to bed, and fall asleep and then we rise. This reminds and teaches us of our ultimate end.

Each day the sun sets and darkness falls around us, but each morning, the sun rises and lights abounds and all things come to life again.

Each day we are reminded and taught that life and light are stronger than darkness, and death. Let the change of the clocks this weekend, and the earlier twilight, remind you to give thanks to God for life...and for Eternal Life.

Thank you for being such a parish.

-Fr. Michael Griffin
