Mission Statement

The Church of St. Luke is a joyful, welcoming, caring, active family of believers striving to grow in knowledge of and love for God and each other. Challenged by the Word, nurtured by the Eucharist, and enlivened by the Spirit, we seek to live the message of Jesus in serving the needs of others both within our Parish and in the larger community.

PENTECOST SUNDAY

FIRST READING: Acts 2:1-11

SECOND READING: 1st Corinthians 12:3b-7,12-13

GOSPEL: John 20: 19-23

Reflection: Reflect upon/Share about a period in your life which seems to have had the most "purpose"? Could you have been sent by God to fulfill that purpose? How can you open yourself to God's Spirit fulfilling His purpose in you now?

Alternative: What do you spend most of your time and energy doing? Would you say that this is the purpose of your life right now? Is it what others want you to spend your time on? How do you think this might fit into God's plan for you?

From the Pastor

Dear parishioners,

I watched a documentary this week which was very disturbing. I was predisposed to watch such a documentary because we discussed the subject at our last Presbyteral Council Meeting (A counsel composed of our bishop and priests representing the different deaneries in our diocese). One of the priests told us about hearing a presentation on child sex trafficking and how he was shocked to find out how prevalent and pervasive it is. He suggested and we agreed that we should have the presentation made to all the priests of the Diocese.

The documentary is entitled "I am Jane Doe". Because of our Presbyteral Council discussion, I expected to hear that the problem was bigger than we think and that it touches all communities and socio-economic classes. What I wasn't expecting to hear was how an internet site, backpage.com, which is an advertising site similar to Craig's List, facilitated the sale of sex with minors; and, how they fought to protect their right to publish the adds which accomplished this.

The website's argument is that they are not responsible for the content of the adds people place on their site; they are protected by section 230 of the Communications Decency Act. So far, the courts have agreed with them.

Interestingly, section 230 was initially included in the CDA to allow service providers to delete or edit people's submissions in order to remove harmful content without then being considered publishers and therefore liable for what was not removed. This is an example of regulation which was specifically enacted to facilitate self-regulation by a particular industry. It appears from this documentary that it is being used to accomplish the opposite.

The documentary's argument is that backpage.com provides instructions, through posting rules, that guides the person posting the add from looking illegal. Backpage.com removed the "Escort" section of their site in January, 2017, the day before they were compelled by a court order to appear before a senate panel looking into the issue.

I guess what bothers me the most about this documentary is the fight backpage.com mounted to protect its right to publish such adds rather than committing the same resources into stopping such adds and bringing the exploiters of children to justice. What are they really protecting? And, what do they gain from protecting their right to wash their hands of such evil? I can't imagine that this portion of their business amounts to much of a percentage of their $134.9 million net.

The Courts evidently think the Legislature needs to deal with this issue which, I guess, means amending the CDA. This would change the legislation designed to allow industry self-regulation to regulation designed to protect people from the industry. There already have been, evidently, efforts by the industry to protect the CDA. At this point it seems to be an ongoing dialogue between the Legislature and the Industry. I pray that it will be fruitful on behalf of children.

Our religious tradition says that we need to change ourselves, change others and change our society to be more in line with Gospel values; that's evangelization in action. In this situation, I think it means we need to become informed of the issues involved in child sex trafficking, we need to inform others and we need to support whatever efforts will make sure we, as a society, put people first.

In His service,

Fr. Ron

GOSPEL MEDITATION

ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

Pentecost Sunday

"Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them, 'Peace be with you.'" Then, he said it again. And then, "he breathed on them and said to them, 'Receive the Holy Spirit.'" Jesus brings peace, and he brings the Holy Spirit. Peace, in fact, is one of the fruits of the Holy Spirit. Today, on this feast of Pentecost, we remember the dramatic outpouring of the Holy Spirit that came upon those first apostles and the peace that came along with it. But we do more than remember. We also celebrate the presence of this same Spirit in our midst.

Through the sacrament of baptism, every Christian receives the indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit in his or her soul. Thus, the gift of peace is already ours! The question is whether or not we have really begun to appreciate and utilize this most precious gift. Like the apostles who had locked themselves up "for fear of the Jews," we too are capable of imprisoning ourselves in our own anxieties. We fret and worry about the future, about our sufferings or our disappointments, and too often let these concerns stifle the true peace that Jesus offers us.

But the Church today urges us to rejoice and to step out in faith like the apostles who left their fears behind them. Peace not only alleviates our fears, it also frees us to live our faith to the fullest, to have the courage to take risks, and to leave our comfort zone for the sake of the Gospel. This is what we are called and, not only that, empowered to do. Anything less is a kind of spiritual poverty we bring upon ourselves. God has given us the gift of himself, present and available in every moment, every place, and every situation. May we recognize this most wonderful gift and give thanks with grateful hearts.

LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

As we gather on this very beautiful feast of Pentecost we are reminded that God has not abandoned us but has left us the gift of the Holy Spirit as an advocate and guide. Negotiating our lives and living the Gospel can sometimes be difficult tasks. We are not always sure how to act or where to turn. We stand a better chance of obtaining greater clarity and focus and discerning what direction to take when we use the gifts of the Holy Spirit that we have been given.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC TRADITIONS EXPLAINED

Question:

Is it true that the feast of Pentecost, the celebration of the descent of the Spirit upon the followers of Jesus, was a Jewish pilgrimage festival?

Answer:

Pentecost is only mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles, written by the author of Luke's Gospel. John's Gospel speaks of Jesus breathing the Spirit upon his followers on Easter Sunday. Luke in Acts is the only one who unpacks the Easter events of Jesus' passion, death, resurrection, ascension, and the sending forth of the Spirit in a period of fifty days.

The Jews had three pilgrimage feasts--Passover, celebrating the Exodus from Egypt; Shavuot, or festival of Weeks, celebrating the giving of the law on Mount Sinai; and Sukkot, the harvest festival of Booths, commemorating the forty years of wandering in the desert. Shavuot celebrated the central covenant event in Jewish life--the giving of the law to Moses on Mount Sinai. The mighty wind, the shaking of the house in which the followers were gathered, along with the tongues of fire all reflect elements surrounding the giving of the law to Moses in the Book of Exodus. Luke was imaging this very backdrop and scenario in this significant event of the community being gifted with the Spirit. As the Torah was the way to God for Jews, so Jesus' Spirit was the guide, power, and path to God for his followers.
