Gospel

"Hear another parable. There was a landowner who planted a vineyard, put a hedge around it, dug a wine press in it, and built a tower. Then he leased it to tenants and went on a journey. When vintage time drew near, he sent his servants to the tenants to obtain his produce.

Mission Statement

The Church of St. Luke is a joyful, welcoming, caring, active family of believers striving to grow in knowledge of and love for God and each other. Challenged by the Word, nurtured by the Eucharist, and enlivened by the Spirit, we seek to live the message of Jesus in serving the needs of others both within our Parish and in the larger community.

Masses

Wed., Thurs., Fri.: 7:30 am

Saturday: 5:00 pm

Sunday: 9:00 am & 11:30 am

Sacrament of Reconciliation

Saturday 3:30 pm

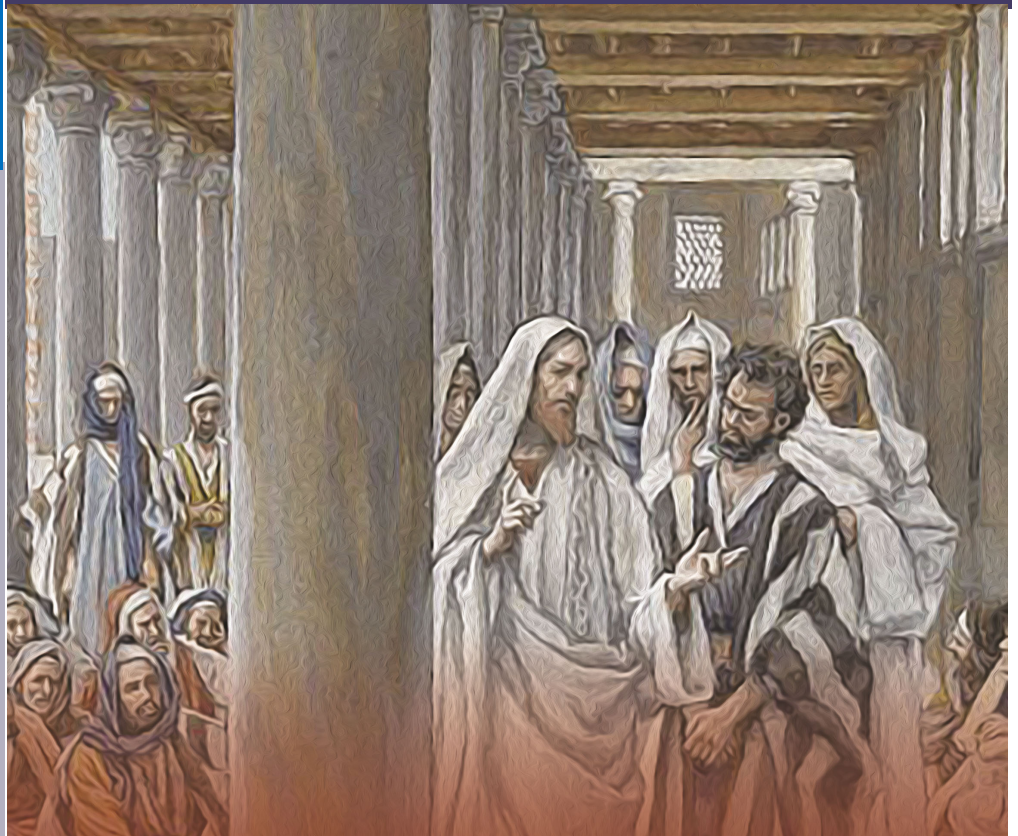

(Also by appointment)

PARISH OFFICE HOURS:

Monday-Friday

Fax: (619) 442-2293

27th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

First Reading : Isaiah 5:1-7

Second Reading: Philippians: 4:6-9

GOSPEL: Matthew 21:33-43

Reflection Reflect upon/Share about people who have done work for you. Did you feel that they were concerned about your interests or were they just doing the job for the money they would be paid? How are the fruits of the Kingdom being produced by your life? How can focus your concern more on Jesus' interests?

Alternate: Reflect upon/share about your accomplishments in life. In what way have your accomplishments been fruitful for the Lord and in what way have they been purely self-serving? What can you do to make the things you do for yourself also things you are doing for the Lord?

From the Pastor

Dear parishioners,

Last week I attended a conference in St. Louis called Addressing the Challenges of Poverty. It was put on by the Bridges/Getting Ahead people and was attended by people from all over the country who are doing projects similar to what we want to do in El Cajon. I was able to meet several people I wanted to meet and get advice and answers to questions I've been holding. It was a really good conference for me; well worth the time.

Our project, by the way, is beginning our first series of Getting Ahead workshops on Oct 11th. We have ten people signed up for this one and have twelve other individuals who also want to participate in the workshop series. We've told them they have to wait until January and I hope I can come up with enough money to fund a series for them by then.

I've heard that some people think these workshops are for homeless people; they're not. Homeless people are not normally living a lifestyle wherein they can effectively participate in weekly gatherings for sixteen, or so, weeks. That said, though, there is a significant number of homeless parents who are able to get their children to school on a regular basis. For homeless people to participate in Getting Ahead, they would need sufficient services, first, that help them have enough stability to participate. There are many people and organization working on that portion of the process including our St. Vincent de Paul.

Getting Ahead is for people who are "Just Gett'n By". It is designed to guide people on a journey from living an unstable lifestyle into a lifestyle that is stable enough to allow them to move forward rather than slip further behind.

It first guides individuals to create an accurate picture of their current situation wherein they can see the elements of instability and compare that to the lifestyles of people living in the middle class and wealth. Then they look at research into the causes of poverty which helps them identify things in their lifestyle and things outside of their control that may need to change.

Since they will need to interact with people in the middle class, who hold access to jobs and education, they learn the differences in the unwritten rules which are necessary for them to negotiate life in poverty and the unwritten rules of middle-class and wealth. They look at the differences in the use of language especially the difference between casual register, often used by people who grew up in poverty, and formal register used by the middle class and wealth.

Finally, they assess their possession of eleven different resources, the absence of which defines living in poverty. They investigate how they might increase their resources within the community where they live. And then, they develop their own plan for acquiring the resources they believe will help them most.

We are committed, through volunteers, to maintaining a relationship with them as allies along their journey to stability. And that is a key to this model; along with using a structural approach to reducing poverty, it builds appropriate relationships to help families achieve and maintain stability.

The conference reported, along with the tremendous improvement in the lives of families, tremendous return on investment with this model through increased income, increased assets, decreased high interest debt, decreased total debt and decreased use of public assistance. I pray that our project will have similar results and ask for your prayers too.

In His service,

Fr. Ron

GOSPEL MEDITATION: 27th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Therefore, I say to you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people that will produce its fruit." The chief priests and elders listening to Jesus must have been furious. After telling the parable about the tenants who abused the owner's property and killed his son, Jesus had a tough lesson to teach. He compared the Jewish leaders to these terrible tenants. They, like the selfish workers in the vineyard, were guilty of not respecting proper authority and of trying to seize control--not of grapes, in this case, but of religious matters. In short, they were not bearing fruit for God's kingdom, but only for their own prestige and privilege.

Before we spend too much time criticizing them, however, we would do well to examine ourselves. If Jesus were standing in our midst right now, would he have a similar warning for us? We may not be religious leaders, but we are like those tenants in many ways because we have been made stewards of the gifts of God. We receive his help and grace through the sacraments, for example. Are we good stewards of this grace, or do we take it for granted and fail to nourish it to produce good fruit?

And what about the personal gifts that God has entrusted to each of us? We all have certain skills, talents, experiences, and opportunities thanks to God's work in our lives. Do we make the most of these things or do we settle for the easy road? Do we thank God for them or consider them to be our own?

God has trusted us with a place in the world, HIS world. He is the ultimate authority here and all things we enjoy come from his hands. May we have the humility and gratitude to use his gifts for his glory and not just our own.

LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

How often do we find ourselves wanting what is not ours? Greed, envy, and even gluttony lead us to a bad end. We live in a world that feels very entitled. Many people believe that wants and needs ought to be provided or simply given to them, without any work or effort. It is easy to feel that we have received the short end of the stick or less than what we deserve. However, feeling shortchanged makes it impossible to walk with gratitude in our hearts and feel a sense of responsibility, the two essential elements of the spiritual life. Are we grateful?

WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC TRADITIONS EXPLAINED

Question: Why is the Church against stem cell research, especially if it offers the possibility of cures for diseases like Alzheimer's and Parkinson's?

Answer: Like so many issues, the truth about stem cell research is more complicated than a few sound bites and vague promises of cures. For the Church, the problem is with embryonic stem cell research, not the research itself. The destruction of human life, even for a seemingly noble cause, is never acceptable. The ends cannot justify the means. Stem cells can be obtained in other ways, including from the placenta as well as from adults. So research is possible without the destruction of other life.

On the other hand, stem cell research shows much promise, but no concrete results. Some scientists also dispute what diseases might be cured by new discoveries. The research is still in its early stages. The question for our country is whether we should invest a lot of money in research now, looking for cures that will probably remain out of reach for most people, or should we invest that money in other programs with more immediate benefits, especially those that stress prevention and education. It is indeed a complex issue that requires close scrutiny and investigation before we jump to inaccurate conclusions or make decisions based on good, but misinformed, intentions.
