The Church of Saint Luke

A Roman Catholic Community of Disciples

Third Sunday in Ordinary Time
January 24, 2016

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to bring glad tidings to the poor. — Luke 4:18a

FIRST READING: Nehemiah 8:2-4a, 5-6, 8-10
SECOND READING: 1 Corinthians 12:12-30 [12-14, 27]
GOSPEL: Luke 1:1-4; 4:14-21

He unrolled the scroll and found the passage where it was written: The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to bring glad tidings to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim liberty to captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free, and to proclaim a year acceptable to the Lord. Rolling up the scroll, he handed it back to the attendant and sat down, and the eyes of all in the synagogue looked intently at him. He said to them, "Today this Scripture passage is fulfilled in your hearing." Lk 4:17b-21

Reflection: Reflect upon/Share about an aspect of your life where you experience a lack of richness, or where you do not feel free, or where you think your blindness might lie; or, in what ways do you feel some sort of oppression? What is the source of your poverty, captivity, blindness or oppression? How can you open yourself to this passage being fulfilled in your hearing?

Alternative: In what ways would you like more richness in your life, more freedom, more knowledge or understanding? How would your gaining this richness, freedom, knowledge or understanding make this a "year acceptable to the Lord"? (How would it please God?)

FROM: THE PASTOR REPRINT FROM OCTOBER 2014

Dear Parishioners,

Tonight, Tuesday, the Pastoral Council and I discussed the phenomena of people leaving Mass before the dismissal. I'm especially amazed after my homily last week which pretty much said that, if you leave Mass before the dismissal, you are like the man in the Gospel who wasn't wearing a wedding garment. I guess people didn't hear that, or simply disagree with me, or just don't care.

We talked about ways to get people to stay until the dismissal and came up with the idea of having the ushers put stickers on people, as they come in, which say, "I stayed until the dismissal". Then if people leave early the ushers would pull the stickers off them. They would be special kinds of stickers which make a loud, obnoxious, noise as they are being pulled off. Maybe then people would stay; to avoid the embarrassment. Yeah, we got a good laugh out of it too.

But, I don't know how to get people to understand that the Mass works up to our Communion and then is resolved by the Prayer After Communion and the dismissal. Some people even leave before the Prayer After Communion and evidently don't understand that it is through our communion with the Lord and with each other that we become the Body of Christ. That act is not completed until everyone has received and we pray the Prayer After Communion. How could you go through the act of becoming a member of the Body of Christ and leave before the action is complete, before the building of the Body of Christ is completed?

It is in the dismissal that the Body of Christ is sent out into the world to be the Body of Christ. At some point people must have understood this. I was taught that it was the people who gave the Mass the name Mass. It comes from the last official act of the Mass, the dismissal. In Latin it is Ite missa est. It means "Go you are dismissed" but it is not a dismissal that simply means it's over. "Dismiss", "missile" and "Mass" all come from the Latin word mittere which means to send. That is why some people call the dismissal, the sending. And we are sent like missiles for a purpose but not the destructive purpose of most missiles. We are sent to diffuse, far and wide, the love of Christ. The people who gave the Mass its name must have understood this.

We are a people who act out, liturgically, who we are. We are a people who, in the first part of Mass, listens to God speaking to us, reflects on His Word and responds in to Him in our prayer. The second part of Mass is the active response to the word of God; we make our Lord's sacrifice present to our day and time, we join the sacrifice of our lives to His; and, we are nourished by our communion with Him and with each other to be sent on mission to live that sacrifice out in our day to day lives. We might live that sacrifice out in any given week by working on increasing our holiness (wholeness), by witnessing to the Gospel by the way in which we live and/or by serving God through acts of service to the needy.

Fully, actively and consciously participating in the liturgy, as Vatican II admonishes, necessarily includes being there to be sent out. Otherwise, it appears that we are only there to get what we can get. Doing so misses the point that Jesus gathered His disciples together in order that His mission might continue.

When Jesus said "Do this in remembrance of Me", He meant more than simply repeating the actions of the Last Supper as if it has no connection to the rest of our lives. His action wasn't complete until the experience of the cross which brought Him resurrection. Our action isn't complete either until we participate in the cross by our work in the world for which we are dismissed to engage in. And when we do, we experience the life-giving foretaste of resurrection that doing God's work gives.

In His service, Fr. Ron

2nd Reading - As the body with its many parts is still one body, so it is with Christ (1 Corinthians 12:12-30 [12-14, 27]).

Gospel — While attending worship in the Nazarean synagogue, Jesus reads from the prophet Isaiah and declares himself to be the fulfillment of the prophecy (Luke 1:1-4; 4:14-21). ## LIVING AS THE BODY OF CHRIST

Some of Saint Paul's best known and most beloved imagery is contained in the passages from First Corinthians that we have heard last week and this week: the many gifts granted by the one same Spirit and the many members making up the one Body of Christ. Few passages from sacred scripture more accurately sum up how Christian vocations work together.

Unlike some of Paul's other writings, which are a product of the social and religious conventions of his time, these enable us to look at our own lives and the lives of those around us to discern what gifts, what vocations the Holy Spirit has given for the good of all. We can likewise know the joys and sorrows of the other members of the Body and share in them for the strengthening of the whole Body of Christ. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

As Roman Catholics, our marriage practices have their pedigree in ancient Rome. One of the major players in shaping our practices was the warfare involved in building an empire. Soldiers vanished and sometimes never returned. Women began to manage their lives and to make decisions. The old family values were replaced by patriotic ones, and religion was more attuned to the gore and glory of battle, a religion of the state, not of the family. Weddings were still family celebrations, but had a public face. The bride wore a white toga and a red veil and walked to her new home. There, she and her husband joined their right hands and gave consent to each other, not relying on her father to give consent for her. Religion was optional: a pagan priest might be invited or not, and even without the ceremony, society agreed by common law that a year of living together equaled marriage consent. By the same token, marriage by consent also meant divorce was on the same legal footing, and did not require the courts or civil declarations. This is the world-view the first Christians inherited, and it was up to them to determine what was good and to hold marriage up to the light of the gospel. —Rev. James Field, Copyright © J. S.
