The Church of Saint Luke

A Roman Catholic Community of Disciples

18th Sunday in Ordinary Time
July 31, 2016

Teach us to number our days aright, that we may gain wisdom of heart.
— Psalm 90:12

FIRST READING: Ecclesiastes 1:2; 2:21-23
SECOND READING: Colossians 3:1-5, 9-11
GOSPEL: Luke 12:13-21

REFLECTION ON TODAY'S GOSPEL

“There was a rich man whose land produced a bountiful harvest. He asked himself, ‘What shall I do, for I do not have space to store my harvest?’ And he said, ‘This is what I shall do: I shall tear down my barns and build larger ones. There I shall store all my grain and other goods and I shall say to myself, “Now as for you, you have so many good things stored up for many years, rest, eat, drink, be merry!” But God said to him, ‘You fool, this night your life will be demanded of you; and the things you have prepared, to whom will they belong?’ Thus will it be for the one who stores up treasure for himself but is not rich in what matters to God.” Luke 12:16b-21

Reflection: Reflect upon/Share about your accomplishments in life, the things you are most proud of or the things upon which you've worked hardest. Which of these things relate to being "rich in what matters to God?" How can you realistically spend your energy in a manner which is more related to doing what matters to God?

Alternative: Of all the things you do in a day or a week, which ones do you think matter most to God? What percentage of your time is spent on those things? What other things do you do you think God might want you to do? What would have to change for you get those things done too?

Mission Statement

The Church of St. Luke is a joyful, welcoming, caring, active family of believers striving to grow in knowledge of and love for God and each other. Challenged by the Word, nurtured by the Eucharist, and enlivened by the Spirit, we seek to live the message of Jesus in serving the needs of others both within our Parish and in the larger community.

From the Pastor

Dear parishioners,

I was at a meeting last week in which the term disciple came up several times. It was described as meaning follower which, I guess, is somewhat accurate but there is something that makes me uncomfortable about simply saying that a disciple is a follower of Christ, or whoever they are a follower of.

I think my objection has to do with my perceptions of current attitudes of what constitutes being a follower. Many of us “follow” our favorite sports team which means we keep track of what they are doing and cheer them on. Sometimes we even get into fights with others who follow and support a different sports team. I don’t think that is what a disciple is, someone who sits on the sidelines and cheers Jesus on and talks up His greatness with other people.

We could also think of a follower as someone who agrees with and follows the platform or espoused wisdom of a particular political party, segment of that party or candidate. In some ways this may be closer to an acceptable image of what a disciple is but thinking about that comparison scares me; there are many things that are espoused by political parties or candidates, on both sides, that are contrary to my understanding of Gospel values. And this type of following, at least these days, pits us against the other. Discipleship with Jesus is always about working toward unity, communion, of the whole human race.

I think a better understanding of the concept of discipleship is to see the disciple as a student of a master, our Lord, who tries to put what they are learning into practice. Additionally, once a disciple has learned a sufficient amount, they become teachers of the master’s way. This is the appropriate understanding of the Greek word discipulo which literally means learner. But, it means a learner who is learning a way of life, not just a particular academic subject or skill. It is important for us to understand discipleship as not merely rooting for Team Jesus. A true disciple has the humility to hear Jesus’ word deeply and allow them to change him/her into a better version of the person God created them to be. Too often, people who consider themselves disciples seem to use Jesus’ words in order to judge others, a particularly un-Christian habit. The only person we should judge, in light of Jesus’ words, is ourselves. Then we are true disciples... true learners.

Also, it is only when we have learned that we can become true teachers. And if we use our teacher, our master, as an example, we only teach through loving the other. Our love for another, not our judgmental words, should call them to work on being a better person, just as our experience of Jesus’ love for us calls us to become better persons.

These are the things that I think, from my experience, make for a true disciple of the Lord. I pray that my sharing will encourage you to reflect upon your experience of the Lord as your teacher and help you put what you have learned into practice.

In His service,

Fr. Ron

P.S. When I sign “In His service”, that’s not a bragging point but a reminder to me and to whoever reads this.

HITTING IT BIG It seems to be commonly accepted nowadays that everyone wants to win the lottery, hit the slots big at the casino, or be a millionaire. This attitude is akin to what the first hearers of the parable of the successful farmer would have thought: Why, of course he'd want to find a way to preserve his good fortune for the future, to secure for himself a life of leisure, eating, drinking, and merriment. It's exactly the kind of life that the right ticket, hand of cards, or quiz show answer might bring us today. Being surrounded by this "common wisdom" makes the words of Qoheleth, the psalmist, Paul, and Jesus all that much harder to hear today. Perhaps good fortune will be ours, perhaps it will not be. But if we make that fortune or the quest for it the heart, the very center, of our lives, then we will live to regret it. We will not achieve the future security we pursue, and we will lose the present moment in the chase. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Sometimes the treasures of art can provide us with clues about traditions. Take, for example, the miter, the conical hat with lappets, or back-flaps that fall to the shoulders. This cap is worn by bishops in the Catholic West. Eastern Catholics favor a crown, but we have this curious headpiece. In Greek, the word means "turban." Old paintings and mosaics provide clues about headgear for bishops, and there is very little artistic evidence for the miter before the year 1000. Before then, some kind of head covering might have been worn to offset the damp and chill of unheated churches. The pope, as far back as the seventh century, often wore a cap called a camelaucum. Around that time, artists painting St. Peter began to portray their subject wearing this hat. By the year 1000 or so, the pope began to grant similar helmet-shaped headgear as gifts to visiting abbots and bishops. They returned home with these new chapeaus, and before long everybody wanted one!

Today, miters are granted not only to bishops, but to certain favored abbots and occasionally abbesses. Pope Benedict XVI set aside the tradition of the papal tiara in favor of the miter, even on his coat of arms. Pope Paul VI was the last pope to have a coronation. As recently as the 1960s, miters were towering skyscrapers of jewels and rich silks, but now a simplicity of style is favored by bishops. Miters are here to stay, and experienced altar servers know how to await the bishop's removing of the miter, since he does not wear it when he is saying the presidential prayers or the Eucharistic Prayer. —Rev. VETERANS VILLAGE OF SAN DIEGO ANNUAL STAND DOWN
Thank You!

Last Thursday, July 21 parishioners of all ages convened at the Parish Hall to sort and package different snack items and water for our deserving Veterans at Stand Down. Parents and Youth Group members also made sandwiches and assisted in helping us load bags filled with sandwiches and snacks into the vehicles for delivery to San Diego High School. It was a great show of teamwork and compassion for those less fortunate Veterans who have done so much for our country. A sincere and heartfelt thank you to all who participated.
