Marriage and the Church

Although our tradition carries a long memory of marriage as a sacrament, it may surprise you to learn that for nearly eleven centuries, there was no single wedding ceremony approved for use in the Church. While we have evidence of priests blessing marriages as early as the second century, in the early period church leaders relied on civil authorities to manage marriage for everyone in society. In most cases, society yielded its authority to sanction marriage to the male heads of households.

From ancient times, marriage had been a family affair, managed by the father of the family, who acted as priest and guardian of family tradition. Each head wanted to keep the family gods alive, and so he would arrange for brides for his sons, paying a "bride price" as compensation for the loss of a skilled household worker. As creepy as that sounds, it was a step up from the kidnapping practice of earlier years. Even after the kidnapping raids stopped, the customs remained. Every wedding contained the ritualized kidnapping of the bride, the husband abducting his bride from the festivities, carrying her over the threshold to prevent her father's gods from following her into her new religion. There, he fed her a piece of "sacred cake," initiating her into a new way of life. It's fascinating to see how customs endure, long after we have completely rejected the values and attitudes they originally expressed!

Question of the Week

What is one special gift that God has given to you to share with your friends or classmates?

Safeguard the Children

How do parents handle an admission of abuse?

No parent wants their children to suffer from abuse of any kind. However, if a child discloses any instance of abuse, how you handle this information is critical to their well-being. One of the most important things you can do when a child discloses their abuse is not to over react, despite the strong and often overwhelming emotions of anger that you are experiencing at that moment. Be certain that you show the child love and concern through calm, reflective words of understanding and compassion. For a copy of the VIRTUS® article: “After Abuse is Disclosed” and more tips on how to handle abuse disclosures, email: jvienna@la-archdiocese.org.

Contact our Religious Education Office for San Roque Parish’s child safety activities by calling (805) 682-1097. For particular help call the Assistance Ministry at (213) 637-7650.
