Health Ministry:

January a Time For Comfort, Not Resolutions

I'd like to know who decided that January was the time to re-evaluate and set new goals. January, I argue, is a time to nest. After the holiday busyness, it is nice to take a deep breath and relax. Think of it like cocoon living. This is the time to settle into comfort. My goals include staying warm, getting lost in a good book, and allowing myself permission to remain still long enough to enjoy a steaming cup of hot tea. As we navigate the quiescence of winter, I vote all resolutions be allowed some space. Let's take the opportunity to rekindle simple joys. It's ok to rest a bit, so that we don't miss the wonder of simplicity without the self-criticism. Perhaps if we allow some time to be still and accept our imperfections, creativity will speak between the deep breaths of our "doing nothing." And don't let anyone tell you "doing nothing" is doing nothing. I hear my mother's voice reminding me that stillness is where dreams are born. At least for a time, let's embrace our shortcomings. Until the balminess of spring encourages flight, I will remain quite happy nestled, burrowed and challenged to find solace in really ...not much.

Introductions to Readings

by Bishop Ken Untener, in collaboration with Catherine Haven and Fr. Bill Taylor

First Reading - Jonah 3:1-5, 10

The Book of Jonah is only two pages long and tells a parable about a man called by God to preach repentance to the pagan city of Nineveh. Jonah's first response was to sail as fast as he could in the other direction. After his adventures with a large fish, God called him a second time. Today's passage picks it up from there.

Second Reading - 1 Corinthians 7:29-31

In this section of the first letter to the Corinthians, Paul responds to written questions they had sent to him. Some questions had to do with how we, who believe in the next life, should relate to the things of this life. Paul expected that Jesus would return in glory soon, so he gives some advice which we hear in this reading.

Catholic Schools Week

January 28th - February 3rd

Catholic Schools: Communities of Faith, Knowledge and Service

The Catholic Schools Week theme encompasses several concepts that are at the heart of a Catholic education. First, schools are communities - small families in their own right, but also members of the larger community of home, church, city and nation. Faith, knowledge and service are three measures by which any Catholic school can and should be judged. The logo features a swirl of colors interacting around a cross, which is at the center of all Catholic education. The vibrancy of the colors and the movement and shadows in the logo portray the inner-connectivity and community life that are present in our Catholic schools. St. John XXIII faculty, staff, students, and families will be participating in the 10:30 AM Mass next Sunday and there will be an Open House at the school from 12 to 3 PM that day.
