Question of the Week – Why do we light candles at Mass? Candles are also lit in Catholic Churches to symbolize the light of Christ and the Holy Trinity at liturgies, or official, ongoing worship services such as Mass. These candles are usually made of beeswax to symbolize the purity of Christ. The number and placement of candles to be lit at the primary church altar varies greatly depending on the specific occasion and type of clergy presiding over the Mass. Traditionally, candles must be lit before Mass begins, and they are not extinguished until after the service.
