Thirty-First Sunday in Ordinary Time

GOD IS WITH US

The book of Wisdom tells us that the spirit of God is in all things. What a wonderful thought, and what a wonderful image to keep in front of us as we travel down life's road. For if the path is revealed in the treading, it's good to know that God is with us--and all around us--every step of the way. But Paul knows that this divine presence is not timid. Instead, God calls out to us, and Paul prays that we, along with the Thessalonians, might be made worthy of that call. And who knows more about God's call than Zacchaeus, the tax collector? Jesus called him out of a tree, for goodness' sake. Or perhaps more correctly, as we reflect upon the end of today's Gospel reading, for heaven's sake. (c) J. S. Paluch

ALL SAINTS DAY

WE LONG TO SEE GOD'S FACE

"Lord, this is the people that longs to see your face." This antiphon for today's responsorial psalm offers the focus for today's readings. As we on earth celebrate the triumph of all the saints--the ones officially canonized by the Church, and the countless others who have also reached heaven--we add nothing to their glory. But we give ourselves reason to hope. We too long to see the face of God and believe that we can one day be counted among those whose robes, as John tells us in the book of Revelation, are washed "white in the blood of the Lamb."

The passage from John's First Letter offers further assurance: we are God's children who will one day see God. But today's Gospel pulls us past longing and reassurance into action. Jesus clearly tells us what we must do to be counted among the saints. We must be poor in spirit, hungry for holiness, merciful, single-hearted, and peacemakers! Then we too will see the face of God. ### ANHELAMOS CARA VER DIOS

"Señor, esto es la gente que quiere ver su de rostro". Esta antifona para el salmo responsorial de hoy ofrece el enfoque de las lecturas de hoy. Que celebramos en la tierra el triunfo de todos los Santos--los oficialmente canonizados por la iglesia y muchos otros que también han alcanzado el cielo--añadir nada a su gloria. Pero nosotros damos razón a la esperanza. Demasiado largo para ver el rostro de Dios y creo que nos podemos un día contados entre aquellos cuyas túnicas, como Juan nos dice en el libro de Apocalipsis, lavamos "blanco en la sangre del cordero". Primera carta de el pasaje de Juan ofrece más garantía: Somos los hijos de Dios que un día verá a Dios. Pero el Evangelio de hoy nos arrastra más allá de anhelo y confianza en la acción. Jesús claramente nos dice lo que debemos hacer para ser contados entre los Santos. Debemos ser pobres de espíritu, hambriento de santidad, misericordioso, limpios y constructores de paz. Luego también veremos el rostro de Dios. With permission J S Paluch

ALL SOULS DAY

LOOKING TO THE LAST DAY

Today the Church remembers all who have walked the way of Christ and passed from this life. The readings all look to the last day, when we shall all rise from the dead and be reunited.

The prophet Daniel announces words of warning and welfare. He cautions us against the judgment to come, but he also comforts us and assures us that all who live a life of virtue and justice will find life eternal.

The reading from Romans reminds us that, because of Christ's passion, death, and resurrection and our entrance into that paschal mystery through baptism, we now share in the new life won by Christ. This recognition has repercussions: we need to live righteously now, that we might rise to life forever with Christ on the last day.

In the Gospel Jesus pledges that all the Father has given him will not be lost. All the faithful will be raised to joy and live forever in the presence of God.

MIRANDO AL ÚLTIMO DÍA

Hoy la iglesia recuerda a todos los que han caminado el camino de Cristo y han pasado de esta vida. Las lecturas miran hasta el último día, cuando nos serán todos resucitan y reunidas.

El Profeta Daniel anuncia palabras de advertencia y de bienestar. Él nos advierte contra el juicio por venir, pero también nos consuela y nos asegura que todos los que viven una vida de virtud y justicia encontrarán vida eterna.

La lectura de Romanos nos recuerda que, debido a la pasión de Cristo, muerte y resurrección y nuestra entrada en ese misterio Pascual a través del bautismo, que ahora compartimos en la nueva vida ganada por Cristo. Este reconocimiento tiene repercusiones: que necesitamos para vivir rectamente, que podríamos resucitamos a la vida para siempre con Cristo en la última jornada.

En el Evangelio Jesús promete que todo lo el Padre le ha dado no se perderán. Todos los fieles serán resucitados a la alegría y vivirán para siempre en la presencia de Dios. With permission J. S Paluch
