Some random thoughts by the pastor ...

The mystery of growth and development - even when we scientifically dissect it - eludes us. We can identify the mechanics. We can classify the ingredients. We can clone the process. We can't, however, make it happen upon command. Each person learns, grows and develops differently. Spirituality, too, cannot be copied. What is helpful for one person stifles someone else. Jesus seems to be saying something similar in today's gospel story from Mark. The seed is scattered and then allowed to grow and develop in whatever way that it grows and develops. There are similarities to be sure. Weed looks like weed. Corn looks like corn. Each plant also is unique. So too are we.

Parish updates: The west side of the church building (parking lot side) has been restored. The Ladies Restroom (off the church hall) was out of order. The part that was needed to fix the toilet was not delivered until last Friday afternoon. I apologize for any inconvenience this might have caused. The RISE audit is complete. More energy efficient lights will soon replace the existing outdoor lights that we have on the buildings. National Grid is paying 70% of the cost. The lights will provide more light and use less electricity.
