ST. JOSEPH CATHOLIC CHURCH

FROM FR. MIKE:

This Sunday we continue to hear St. Paul's first letter to the Corinthians in our second reading, and he asks them, and us, a wonderful question: "Do you not know that you are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwells in you?" This means that through our baptism the Holy Spirit has set up residence in us. This also implies that we cannot welcome God into our temple because he is already living there (unless you are not yet baptized). But if we wish to be a welcoming Catholic in a welcoming community, we have to take care that we stay open to the Spirit of Jesus in our lives. Often we can think of sin as our refusal to welcome God into our lives, but if we hold that he is already in us, then sin would actually be our actions that thwart the Spirit working in us and through us. Caring for ourselves and especially our physical bodies is essential to being Christian, seeing ourselves as the temples that God has designed them to be. Anything that does harm to our bodies or persons has serious consequences, as Paul says, "If anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy that person; for the temple of God, which you are, is holy." Thanks be to God, we only have to be open to the Holy Spirit for temple repair and cleaning as today's psalm reminds us that indeed "the Lord is kind and merciful."

DE PADRE MIGUEL:

Este domingo seguimos escuchando la primera carta de San Pablo a los Corintios en nuestra segunda lectura, y él les pregunta, ya nosotros, una maravillosa pregunta: "¿No saben ustedes que son el templo de Dios y que el Espíritu de Dios habita en ustedes?" Esto significa que a través de nuestro bautismo el Espíritu Santo ha establecido residencia en nosotros. Esto también implica que no podemos acoger a Dios en nuestro templo porque él ya está viviendo allí (a menos que todavía no este bautizado). Pero si deseamos ser un católico acogedor en una comunidad acogedora, debemos cuidar que permanezcamos abiertos al Espíritu de Jesús en nuestras vidas. A menudo podemos pensar en el pecado como nuestra manera de rechazar a Dios en nuestras vidas, pero si sostenemos que él ya está en nosotros, entonces el pecado sería realmente nuestras acciones que frustran al Espíritu que obra en nosotros ya través de nosotros. Cuidar de nosotros mismos y especialmente de nuestros cuerpos físicos es esencial para ser cristiano, viéndonos a nosotros mismos como los templos que Dios ha diseñado. Cualquier cosa que haga daño a nuestros cuerpos o personas tiene serias consecuencias, como Pablo dice: "Quien destruye el templo de Dios, será destruido por Dios, porque el templo de Dios es santo y ustedes son ese templo." Gracias a Dios, sólo tenemos que estar abiertos al Espíritu Santo para la reparación y limpieza del templo, como nos recuerda el salmo de hoy, que "El Señor es compasivo y misericordioso."
