ST. JOSEPH CATHOLIC CHURCH

FROM FR. MIKE:

As we prepare to enter into the Lenten season this coming Wednesday, we hear Paul tell the Corinthians in today's second reading that we are to be regarded as "servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God." The concept of stewardship is always difficult for us because we are used to be owners when it comes to our material stuff. But we do not own God nor even our understanding of him because this is a wisdom that can only come from the Holy Spirit. Consequently, anything that we have in this earthly life ultimately comes to us from God, and thus we really don't own anything but are only stewards. One way to think of this is that anything in our life is there for us from God in order that we can use it to give glory to God. Paul then says, "Now it is of course required of stewards that they be found trustworthy." One of the best ways we become trustworthy stewards of the mysteries of God is to be trustworthy stewards of the earthly goods we has blessed us with. Another is to consider how we can improve our stewardship of our time and energy to use them in ways that glorify him. As the season of Lent quickly approaches, let us take advantage of this opportunity with which God has entrusted to us to grow in our love of him.

DEL PADRE MIGUEL:

Mientras nos preparamos para entrar en la Cuaresma este miércoles, escuchamos a Pablo decir a los Corintios en la segunda lectura de hoy que debemos ser considerados como "servidores de Cristo y administradores de los misterios de Dios." El concepto de administración es siempre difícil para nosotros porque estamos acostumbrados a ser dueños cuando se trata de nuestras cosas materiales. Pero no somos dueños de Dios, ni siquiera de nuestra comprensión de él, porque esta es una sabiduría que sólo puede provenir del Espíritu Santo. En consecuencia, todo lo que tenemos en esta vida terrenal en última instancia viene a nosotros de Dios, y por lo tanto, realmente no poseen nada, pero sólo somos administradores. Una manera de pensar en esto es que cualquier cosa en nuestra vida está allí para nosotros por parte de Dios para que podamos usarla para dar gloria a Dios. Pablo entonces dice: "Ahora bien, lo que se busca en un administrador es que sea fiel." Una de las mejores maneras de convertirnos en administradores dignos de confianza de los misterios de Dios es ser administradores dignos de confianza de los bienes terrenales con los que nos ha bendecido. Otra es considerar cómo podemos mejorar nuestra administración de nuestro tiempo y energía para usarlos de maneras que lo glorifiquen. A medida que el tiempo de Cuaresma se aproxima rápidamente, aprovechemos esta oportunidad con la que Dios nos ha confiado para crecer en nuestro amor por él.
