FROM FR. MIKE:

One of my favorite treats for Easter is a chocolate bunny. Okay, for your reference, anything with chocolate works for me, but there is an added fun in eating chocolate that is in the form of a cute, furry, cuddly creature from the woods. And like most people, I usually eat the ears first. Why do we do that? Probably because it is easiest to break off a piece right where the ears are attached to the head, which is the weakest point on the chocolate rabbit. Easter is a reminder that God came to earth like one of us and focused straight on the weakest aspect of our human existence—that we are a fallen people wounded permanently by original sin. God addressed the point of attack by sending us His Son, Jesus, who was human as well as sharing in his Father's divine nature. Jesus then used his human will to choose to suffer the fullness of evil by dying in one of the more cruel, humiliating, and painful ways imaginable. Yet God raised Jesus from the dead, the ultimate evil, and by conquering and destroying this ultimate evil, we can now enjoy the fullness of life as we were meant to experience it here on earth and in the life to come in heaven. So, by addressing where we are weakest and certainly cannot save ourselves, Jesus provides us with a newness of life. So if you get to enjoy a chocolate bunny or other Easter candy, remember the sweetness of allowing Jesus to be the Lord of life and the gift of the resurrection.

DEL PADRE MIGUEL:

Uno de mis dulces favoritos para la Pascua es un conejo de chocolate. Bueno, para su referencia, cualquier cosa con chocolate funciona para mí, pero hay una diversión añadida en comer chocolate que está en la forma de una criatura linda, peluda, amorosa de los bosques. Y como la mayoría de la gente, suelo comer las orejas primero. ¿Por qué hacemos eso? Probablemente porque es más fácil romper una pieza justo donde las orejas se unen a la cabeza, que es el punto más débil en el conejo de chocolate. La Pascua es un recordatorio de que Dios vino a la tierra como uno de nosotros y se centró directamente en el aspecto más débil de nuestra existencia humana: que somos un pueblo caído herido permanentemente por el pecado original. Dios se dirigió al punto de ataque enviándonos a Su Hijo, Jesús, que era humano, además de compartir la naturaleza divina de su Padre. Jesús entonces usó su voluntad humana para elegir sufrir la plenitud del mal muriendo de una de las formas más crueles, humillantes y dolorosas imaginables. Sin embargo, Dios levantó a Jesús de entre los muertos, el mal supremo, y al conquistar y destruir este mal supremo, ahora podemos disfrutar de la plenitud de la vida tal como estábamos destinados a experimentarla aquí en la tierra y en la vida que viene en el cielo. Por lo tanto, al dirigirse a donde somos más débiles y ciertamente no podemos salvarnos a nosotros mismos, Jesús nos proporciona una renovación de vida. Así que, si ustedes consiguen disfrutar de un conejito de chocolate u otro dulce de Pascua, recuerde la dulzura de permitir que Jesús sea el Señor de la vida y el don de la resurrección.

INDIANA INDIAN DAY

St. Joseph Parish is hosting this day acknowledging the harsh treatment of the Pottawatomi and Miami Indians that led to their forced displacement and even death this Sat, Apr. 22 at 2:00pm. The program begins in the church with prayer, then will include historical recollections of the Trail of Death and a public apology. A reception with refreshments will follow in the Parish Hall.
