From Father Mike

There is story I ran across about obstetrician Stéphane Tarnier, who in the 1870s saw the death of two out of three babies born with low birth weight. Exhausted from living with so many losses, Tarnier took a day and visited the zoo. He wandered into an exhibit of baby chickens and saw an incubator in use. Soon he had a similar machine built for human babies, and the mortality rate was halved. For me the important aspect of this story was that he stepped away from his normal routine, and in doing so gained insight into how better to live his life. Today's gospel is a story of Eucharist, as Jesus is recognized by his disciples in the breaking of the bread and then Christ opens their minds to understand the scriptures. Perhaps Sunday Mass for some Catholics is seen as a weekly drudgery, and for others as an ideal religious practice that can be attended when it fits into the weekend schedule. For me, it is an essential respite from the world that puts us into direct contact with the Risen Lord. Beyond giving us insight, it is itself an incubator that it gives us the experience of God's love that warms us, protects us, heals us, and gets us ready to live our life back out in the world.

Del Padre Miguel

Hay una historia que encontré sobre el Obstetra Stéphane Tarnier, quien en la década de 1870 vio la muerte de dos de cada tres bebés nacidos con bajo peso al nacer. Agotado de vivir con tantas pérdidas, Tarnier se tomó un día y visitó el zoológico. Vagó en una exhibición de pollitos y vio una incubadora en uso. Pronto tuvo una máquina similar construida para bebés humanos, y la tasa de mortalidad se redujo a la mitad. Para mí, el aspecto importante de esta historia fue que se apartó de su rutina normal, y al hacerlo obtuvo una idea de cómo vivir mejor su vida. El evangelio de hoy es una historia de Eucaristía, como Jesús es reconocido por sus discípulos en la fracción del pan y luego Cristo abre sus mentes para entender las escrituras. Quizás la misa dominical para algunos católicos se ve como un trabajo pesado semanal, y para otros como una práctica religiosa ideal que se puede atender cuando se ajusta al horario de fin de semana. Para mí, es un respiro esencial del mundo que nos pone en contacto directo con el Señor resucitado. Más allá de darnos una idea, es en sí mismo una incubadora que nos da la experiencia del amor de Dios que nos calienta, nos protege, nos sana y nos prepara para vivir nuestra vida en el mundo.

ASK FATHER MIKE

PREGUNTAS PARA EL PADRE MIKE

Why did you choose to come to this church specifically?

I did not choose to come to St. Joseph but was appointed to come here by Bishop Doherty. I feel this is a good place for me to serve because I can use my experience as a pastor to help build up the ministries here, including using my Spanish to expand the number of people that can be engaged into the parish.

¿Por qué eligió venir específicamente a esta iglesia?

No elegí venir a San José, pero fui designado para venir aquí por el obispo Doherty. Siento que este es un buen lugar para servir porque puedo usar mi experiencia como pastor para ayudar a construir los ministerios aquí, incluyendo usar mi español para expandir el número de personas que pueden participar en la parroquia.

How long have you been a father for?

I was ordained on June 6, 1993, so currently I have been a priest for over 24 years.

¿Cuánto tiempo ha sido padre?

Fui ordenado el 6 de junio de 1993, por lo que actualmente he sido sacerdote por más de 24 años.

Did you have any girlfriends when you were younger?

Yes, I dated some girls while in college and afterwards when working, but stopped once I started studies in the seminary.

¿Tenía novias cuando eras más joven?

Sí, salí con algunas chicas mientras estaba en la universidad y después cuando trabajaba, pero me detuve una vez que comencé los estudios en el seminario.
