2nd Sunday of Lent

"Here I am!" he answered." - GENESIS 22:11

It is easy to say, "Here I am, Lord," when we are kneeling in church. Can we just as easily answer, "Here I am, Lord," when we go home, when a neighbor needs our help, when a fellow parishioner asks us to join a committee, or when a letter asks for our financial help? These are often exactly the places where Jesus calls us to be.

His great love is without end.

~Psalm 136

A Question of Faith for the Week

Second Sunday of Lent - Behold His Glory

“ O God, who have commanded us to listen to your beloved Son, be pleased, we pray, to nourish us inwardly by your word, that, with spiritual sight made pure, we may rejoice to behold your glory.....” (Collect-Opening Prayer of Mass) This Collect comes to us from the Mozarabic or ancient liturgy of Spain. We ask God to "nourish us inwardly by his word," recalling last Sunday's Gospel of the Temptation in the Desert. The prayer uses the word "inwardly" and there is a special message for us here: the word of God is not destined to be heard only by our ears, but to be received in our hearts. The word takes root deep within us; it changes us, and makes us into what God wants us to be. It purifies our sight, that we might "behold the glory" seen by Saints Peter, James and John at the Transfiguration on Mount Tabor. How can my prayer, and fasting and almsgiving help me behold Christ's glory this week?

BYOB-Bring your own Bible

During the Season of Lent, in an effort to draw closer to Christ in his Word, I (Fr. Augie) have invited you all to bring your own copy of the Scriptures to Mass and use it in place of the Missalette during the Liturgy of the Word. In order to make this easier for you, to have bookmarked them before Mass, the readings for next week are:

1st Reading: Ex 20:1-17

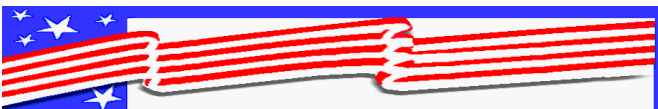

Psalm: 19:8,9,10,11

2nd Reading: 1Cor 1:22-25

Gospel Reading: John 2:13-25

God's word, listened to and celebrated, above all in the Eucharist, nourishes and inwardly strengthens Christians, enabling them to offer an authentic witness to the Gospel in daily life.

“[Christ] is present in his word, since it is he himself who speaks when the holy Scriptures are read in the Church”

(Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, 7)

The Second Vatican Council emphasized the place of Scripture in the liturgy. More Scripture was added to the liturgy and Scripture began to be read in the vernacular language (or the language of the people) rather than Latin. The theological nature of Scripture in the liturgy is reaffirmed by the Council, because it reminds us that in the proclamation of Scripture Christ is indeed present. The words of Scripture provide more than information, they embody Christ’s very presence. The words embody Christ himself. When we listen and take to heart Christ’s words, we grow closer to him. There is a building of communion in the acceptance of Christ’s words between Christ and those who listen. In other words, the proclamation of Scripture builds the relationship of people with Christ himself. We come to know who Christ is and what he means for us who are called to live his words.
