PASTOR'S COMMENT: "What would you do, what would you say to Jesus if you met Him on the street? It sounds like something that would never happen, yet we meet Him every day at work, at school, at home. In today's gospel passage we are reminded that when Jesus' own disciples saw something of the divine presence of God in Jesus, they didn't know what to do or say. The presence of Jesus is in everyone we encounter from the least to the greatest. If Jesus took the lead from you, what would He do and say to you when He meets you on the way?" — Fr. John

SCRIPTURE: "The men of Israel shall not appear before the Lord empty-handed, but each with his own gift, in proportion to the blessing which the Lord, your God, has given to you." — Deuteronomy 16:16-17

PARISHIONER COMMENT: "Never measure your generosity by what you give, but rather by what you have left." — Venerable Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen

BISHOP JAMES F. CHECCHIO'S FIRST PASTORAL LETTER - Lighting a Fire in the Heart of Our World, is available in a special March 2 edition of The Catholic Spirit, the letter is a reflection of Bishop Checchio's pastoral visits to parishes, Catholic schools, institutions and ministries of the diocese since his May 3, 2016 ordination and installation. Based on his conversations with clergy, religious and the lay faithful and his personal observations, it outlines the priorities that emerged and which call for our attention as we go forward in the Church of Metuchen. You can also read it online at diometuchen.org and catholicspirit.com.

DIOCESAN COLLECTIONS: Next weekend we are invited to support CATHOLIC RELIEF SERVICES COLLECTION, a collection that works at home and abroad to give aid to victims of persecution and natural disasters, provide legal services to poor immigrants, and advocate for the powerless. Envelopes are available in the entrances of the church.

THIS IS OUR FAITH

LENTEN BOOK

"Resisting Happiness"

For me the following were two high points from Matthew Kelly's book and the Best Lent Ever this week. Matthew Kelly asks us to review our image of God, and he also tells us to look at life with the end in mind.

What is your image of God? Matthew asks that we sit down and write out how we see God, His attributes and characteristics, and how God relates to us. It is easy to see how our image of God can affect how we treat ourselves and others. If we see God as a judge delivering judgments, then we might react in a very judgmental way with ourselves and toward others. If we see God as a loving Father, as in the parable of the Prodigal Son, we may be more forgiving of ourselves and others. Do we see God as being only for good people, or truly as one Who came to call sinners and rejoices when one repents? Our image of God is a basic factor in how we live our lives and treat ourselves and others.

The second high point for me was that we should begin all things with the end in mind. Well, Kelly hits us right between the eyes, because he reminds us that the end result of life is death. He suggests that it is important for us to consider our death since it will help us get busy living.

That's right, considering your death will help you get busy living. If your doctor told you had six months to live, it would help put things in perspective. Kelly asked a group of nurses what people spoke about when they were dying. Here are a few of the responses:

- I wish I'd had the courage to just be myself.
- I wish I had spent more time with the people I love.
- I wish I had made spirituality more of a priority.
- I wish I hadn't spent so much time working.
- I wish I had discovered my purpose earlier.
- I wish I had been a better spouse.
- I wish I hadn't spent so much time chasing the wrong things.
- I wish I had touched more lives.

As part of this effort to begin with the end in mind, Kelly stresses the importance of daily prayer. Kelly reminds us to bring our concerns to God each morning. He suggests starting with 10 minutes in the morning, making this prayer time your first priority. During that time, he suggests we bring to God our lives and what we are faced with that day and ask God what he wants us to do. Kelly maintains that "prayer changes everything and nothing changes without prayer. This priority for prayer helps put God at the center of our lives, where He is supposed to be. It will help increase our love for him and our trust in him!

515 FOREST ROAD · SCOTCH PLAINS

In this memoir, set as deeply in his mind as in the Southeast Asian jungle, a young American soldier embarks on a journey to a war that, for him, will never be over.

The world was a playground for Mickey, a naive Irish American kid bored with his life. His father served in World War II, his brother was a Marine in Vietnam; now it was his turn. His 365 days in Vietnam builds in torment until an attack on a bunker complex in Cambodia. Wounded, his friend captured, he becomes a tormented survivor knowing he is always just a heartbeat from death.
