TODAY'S READINGS

"LITTLE GIRL, I TELL YOU TO GET UP!"

First Reading: Wisdom 1:13-15; 2:23-24

True wisdom rewards a person with immortality, and freedom from the poison of spiritual death, which sin brought to the world.

Second

Reading: II

Corinthians

8:7, 9, 13-15

Paul has the challenging task of persuading his readers to donate to the collection for the Jerusalem church. He asks them to be generous, being mindful that someday their own community might be needy.

Gospel: Mark 5:21-43, or 5:21-24

Two healing stories are "sandwiched" together, a regular device in Mark's gospel. Common elements in the stories include two females; the number twelve; fear, and faith. Jesus heals the two evils of sickness and death introduced into the world "by the envy of the devil", as mentioned in the Wisdom Reading.

THE WORD THIS WEEK

Today we are invited to marvel at one of the most dramatic and amazing of the Lord's miracles – the raising back to life of the daughter of Jairus. The story is told with a level of emotional realism: the calm faith but dreadful fear of Jairus, the servants who bring the news of his daughter's death, the calm reassurance of Jesus and even the laughter of the servant who mock Jesus – all these make this a story that can engage us and speak to us.

And what it says is something profound: all the miracles of the Lord proclaim the Kingdom of God – the world the way God wants it to be. God does not want us to die: death is not part of God's plan for us. This is reinforced by the unfamiliar first reading from the book of Wisdom, which opens our listening to God's Word today with the dramatic phrase: "Death was not God's doing." God created us to live forever, and the raising of Jairus' daughter to life is a vivid and outstanding proclamation of this truth.

INSPIRATION

ESCAPE

A Joyful 'toon by Mike Waters

Therefore, my brothers, I want you to know that through Jesus the forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you. ACTS 13:38 NW

Prayer for Persecuted Christians

Heavenly Father in whom there is no stranger, in Your kindness, watch over all migrants, refugees and asylum seekers and all those separated from their loved ones or exiled from their homes. Help us to show kindness to strangers and those in need, welcoming them in Your name.

In a special way, we ask Your protection upon all Christians in the Middle East and elsewhere who are persecuted and displaced for their Faith in Your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ.

Strengthen them, O Lord, in their courageous witness. May there be an end to the torture and bloodshed of these our brothers and sisters; and may they find a home to live in peace and tranquility.

Through the intercession of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary and Joseph, we ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Dear Friends,

I wish to thank all the parishioners who supported the Father's Day breakfast arranged by our Vincent de Paul Society. Different ministries like the CYO, the Legion of Mary, and the Women's council helped with the arrangements and preparations for the same and most importantly all of you made it a success with your participation. I also want to thank all those who bought and donated the tickets to me. Although I ate only one breakfast, the poor were blessed with the cost of the other 19 tickets.

There might be parishioners who are looking for jobs. It is good to check the Archdiocesan Website, where they post different job openings. As of now I believe there are more than 50 job opportunities listed on the ADOM website. Although the vast majorities are for teaching positions, there are also others. This is the link for that page. http://www.miamiarch.org/CatholicDiocese.php?op=Job\_Openings. There are also job listings on the Catholic Health Services websites. The jobs there are more in health services. You can find them on the web page of CHS under careers. Their main page URL is: <http://www.catholichealthservices.org>.

Recently there has been much talk about the latest encyclical Laudato Si issued by Pope Francis on Thursday, June 18, 2015. While different people may look at it from different angles, the Pope is not writing as a scientist or a politician. He is presenting the moral obligation of each of us to care for creation. It comes from the very simple concept of being good stewards of creation. While scientists and politicians may give a scientific or political twist to the issues presented by the Pope in his encyclical, he is writing as a pastor offering moral guidance rooted in central Catholic teachings about the care for others and the care for God's creation. The poor are always more vulnerable and suffer most when we don't responsibly care for the whole of creation. It is not just about us here and right now, but about the whole human family, now and of the future. Responsibly caring for the natural world will help all people. Every day, environmental impacts affect the lives of countless people right here in our own land and around the world. How we put the nature to our use will depend on what we want to leave behind for our children and grandchildren and for generations to come. The Church is Universal and is present in practically every nation in the world. The pope is not addressing the encyclical to one country or the other, but to the Catholics, to remind them of their role in responsibly caring for the whole of creation. The Catholic understanding of integral ecology links together the care for others and the care for God's creation.

Some may disagree with some of the points in the encyclical. The teaching of the encyclical is not about science, but about our moral responsibility. So whether we accept global warming or climate change or pollution of environment is not the real question, but how we use the elements of nature and our use should not destroy the good creation of God. You can read the entire encyclical in English on the Vatican website. http://w2.vatican.va/content/francesco/en/encyclicals/documents/papa-francesco\_20150524\_enciclica-laudato-si.html

God bless you all.
