What Does the Catholic Church Teach About....? Question:

I would like to address, Why Miracles?

My Answer:

The need for miracles is to give us a physical evidence that God is present through God’s actions in what we call miracles or unexplained events that are outside of a natural explanation. Well, probably not the greatest explanation.

Miracles such as the Apparitions of the Blessed Mother, the uncorrupt bodies of saints, the miracles of the Eucharist, all bring to light the presence of God in a most intimate way so that we might believe.

I’d like to focus on two such miracles, miracles of the Eucharist. The first the miracle at Lanciano Italy and the second the miracle at Bolsena Italy.

In the 8th century, a priest in Lanciano, Italy was experiencing doubts about the real presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. In the middle of saying Mass, he said the words of consecration (“This is my body,” “This is my blood) and saw the bread and wine transform into real human flesh and blood. The blood coagulated into five globules (later believed to be representative of the five wounds of Christ). Word of the miracle quickly spread, the local archbishop launched an investigation, and the Church approved the miracle.

The flesh is still preserved to this day. Professor of anatomy Odoardo Linoli conducted a scientific analysis of the flesh in 1971 and concluded that the flesh was cardiac tissue, the blood appeared to be fresh blood (as opposed to blood that was 1200 years old), and there was no trace of preservatives.

You can visit the miraculous flesh and blood in the Church of San Francesco in Lanciano, Italy.

The Mass at Bolsena was an incident said to have taken place in 1263. A Bohemian priest who doubted the doctrine of transubstantiation, celebrated mass at Bolsena, a town north of Rome. During the mass the bread of the eucharist began to bleed. The blood from the host fell onto the altar linen in the shape of the face of Jesus as traditionally represented, and the priest came to believe.[18] The following year, in 1264, Pope Urban IV instituted the Feast of Corpus Christi to celebrate this miraculous event. A gold-plated silver and enamel reliquary was made in 1337-1338 by Sienese goldsmith Ugolino di Vieri to house the relic.[19] The blood-stained Corporal of Bolsena is still venerated as a major relic in Orvieto Cathedral.

As Catholics we experience the greatest of Eucharistic Miracles at every Mass, the complete change of the substance of the bread and wine into the Body and Blood of Jesus. Wow! Do we even think of this? We receive in Holy Communion the God of the Universe, Jesus the Christ fully. I sometimes have a hard time getting my head around that.
