Fourth Sunday of Easter – B

The image of the good shepherd is appropriated to Jesus because he possesses within himself the qualities of one who takes care of the flock. Like a good shepherd he knows us individually and looks after each one of us. As a good shepherd, Jesus leads us by example; he practices what he preached. And finally, like a good shepherd, Jesus is willing to give his life for our protection and well-being.

Almost all of us have shepherding roles. Priests and religious are called to lead the people in their journey to God or to heaven. Government and civil authorities are expected to lead their constituents to progress and prosperity. In the family, parents are the leaders of their children; while in the school, teachers are leaders of their students. However, we need to ask ourselves: What kind of leader or shepherds are we?

If we serve only when it is convenient, we are no good shepherds. If we serve only when there is money involved, we are what Jesus calls "robbers and thieves" of the flock. If we lead people only from a distance or if we have no personal involvement with those whom we serve, we are bad shepherd. What about us? Do we also have the courage to sacrifice our life for people entrusted to our care?

Welcome, Father Lively!

To prayerfully thank the faithful for the continued support of our diocese, Bishop Christopher J. Coyne will celebrate Mass on May 5 at St. Andrew Church in Waterbury and at the Ascension Church in Georgia on May 7. Both Masses will begin at 5:30, followed by light refreshments and the opportunity to personally meet Bishop Coyne. As our diocese moves from one of maintenance to mission, it is our hope you will plan to join us for one or both of these Masses. All are welcome, See you there!

Do you know someone in need of a Catholic Daughters of the Americas Court St Veronica #1273 Prayer Blanket? The recipient does not need to be a Catholic, only a person who is in need of prayers. If you know someone, please contact Madeleine Beauregard at 472-9119 or Emma Pudvah at 472-3379

Archdiocese continues helping survivors of sexual abuse and their families

The two programs for adults currently used within the Diocese are VIRTUS and Shield the Vulnerable. To learn more or to participate in a program, visit www.vermontcatholic.org or contact your parish office.

On Saturday May 16th, 2015 the Knights of Columbus across the entire state of Vermont are conducting a day of prayer for all the clergy of our state. Each local council will select their own hour of the day to gather themselves and their parish family to pray; creating a chain of prayer from 8:00am until 8:00pm across our entire parish and Knights of Columbus communities. An entire day of unceasing prayer by the faithful for our spiritual leaders! Brownson Council 1568, Hardwick has committed to an hour of prayer from 3:00 to 4:00 PM., with Rosary at 3:45 PM.
