

Fourth Sunday of Lent

Prayer for Conversion

Father of unfailing mercy,
you sent your only Son into the world to save us.
May we look to your Son, who was lifted up on the tree of glory,
and not allow the powers of darkness to hold us captive. You are the God who gathers the tired and the injured, the refugee and sinners, embracing all with immeasurable love and mercy.
May your Son accompany us on the road to conversion and may our works of prayer, fasting, and almsgiving lead others to be touched with your boundless love. Entrust your holy people with a clear vision, leading us to focus our eyes on Christ, who is the Light of the World.
Grant us the strength to walk always as children of the light, with our sight on the One who was lifted high on the Cross.
We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

The Cross of Christ

Today's Readings: 2 Chronicles 36:14 -16, 19 - 23; Psalm 137:1- 2, 3, 4 - 5, 6 (6ab); Ephesians 2:4 -10; John 3:14 - 21. Some might be surprised at the uplifting tone of the prayers and readings in today's Mass. We pray in the Entrance Antiphon, "Rejoice, Jerusalem," and in the Prayer over the Offerings, note that it is "with joy" that we place the offerings. It may not be widely understood that Lent has a joyful aspect. Today, on Laetare Sunday, when rose-colored vestments may be worn, we look past the seriousness of Lent and acknowledge our joy in Christ.

The readings provide the reason for our rejoicing. In the First Reading, we see that the Lord has compassion on his people, and in the Second Reading, that God is "rich in mercy." St. Paul's words to the Ephesians underscore that all we have is a gift from God. "By grace you have been saved," he says. Our grace comes to us entirely without our merit. Just as the Lord sent messengers to his people while they were unfaithful, he provides us with grace even while we are in sin. That grace has made us alive in Christ.

In John's account of the Gospel, we are told why God is compassionate and merciful to us. It is because he loves us. He "so loved the world that he gave his only Son" so that all who believe may have eternal life. With this knowledge, how could we live anything but joyful lives? How might you acknowledge your joy in Christ?

Dear Friends,

We reached the one-year anniversary of our John 21 Community Breakfast. Since John 21 opened its door on Saturday February 15, 2014, we have served over 6000 meals to our guests every Saturday. Close to 140 people are now involved in making this ministry the success that it is today. This is truly a miracle. The mission of John 21 is simple:

“St. Patrick’s John 21 Community Breakfast ministry provides a free, nutritious breakfast every Saturday morning in the spirit of community fellowship and hospitality.”

The guests who attend breakfast may need a nutritious meal because of unfortunate circumstances or they come to be with others. All are welcome. I recall a man who once attended the breakfast and he mentioned to a person serving that this was his first meal in three days. The ministry is more than a social service or a volunteer opportunity. We believe that it is first and foremost a continuation of Jesus’ ministry of reaching out to the hungry, the thirsty, the lonely, the less fortunate and those who are in need of any kind. John 21 was inspired by Jesus’ words to his disciples “Come, have breakfast...” from chapter 21 in John’s Gospel. In that chapter, Jesus meets disciples on the shore, who despite of working the whole night, were not able to catch any fish. That meant: no income, no food, and no way to provide for their families. Jesus did not stand there indifferent. He provided as he did when he fed the multitude of five thousand with two fish and five loaves of bread, (Matt. 14:13-21).

The projected budget to operate John 21 for the year is approximately $20,000.00. The cost is entirely covered by donations of food and monetary contributions, grants and pledges that have come from a large Northbridge community and beyond. We have begun this year with $12,000.00, which is amazing and extraordinary because it puts our ministry in a solid financial state. The parish did not have to make any financial contribution this past year. That in and of itself is an incredible accomplishment since it was the first year of John 21.

We have also created a new logo for John 21:

The “O” in the logo is in the shape of the “host” we receive during Mass and the cross. What the logo emphasizes, therefore, is the connection of John 21 Ministry to our celebration of Sunday Mass. It reminds us that “the Eucharist is the source and the fount of everything that we do as a community” as the Second Vatican Council reminded us over 50 years ago. If you are interested in serving at the John 21 Breakfast, we invite you to do what we call a “FIRST SERVE.” Simple, come serve once, and if you feel that this is the ministry you wish to be involved in, you can sign up. For more information contact, Shelly at Shelly@mystpatricks.com.

I would like to thank all of you, who have made the John 21 Breakfast such a success, either through serving, financial donation, volunteering, or simply praying for John 21.

Blessed Lent,

Fr. Tomasz

This Week at Home

Monday, March 16, 2015 Bringing Others to Belief

The official in today’s Gospel places his faith in Jesus even before he meets him. Because of that faith, Jesus healed the man’s son. With that healing, others came to believe. Those new believers in Jesus came about because of the official’s faith. In The Joy of the Gospel, Pope Francis says that we are all to be missionary disciples. In other words, the joy of our faith should attract others to Christ. Could you be accused of bringing others to faith? Today’s Readings: Isaiah 65:17– 21; Psalm 30:2 and 4, 5 – 6, 11–12a and 13b (2a); John 4:43 – 54.

Tuesday, March 17, 2015 St. Patrick, Bishop

The many legends of St. Patrick are widely known. It cannot be confirmed, though, that this fifth-century saint either taught with a shamrock or drove out snakes. What can be known about his life is what he wrote in his old age in his Confession. There, he tells of his dependence on God in prayer and the faith that sustained him while in captivity. Though happy when he was able to return to his homeland, he followed God’s call to evangelize in Ireland. Today’s Readings: Ezekiel 47:1– 9, 12; Psalm 46:2 – 3, 5 – 6, 8 – 9 (8); John 5:1 –16.

Wednesday, March 18, 2015

St. Cyril of Jerusalem, Bishop and Doctor of the Church

St. Cyril’s Catechetical Instructions are still studied today. In those sermons, the bishop explained Church doctrine to catechumens preparing for Baptism at the Easter Vigil and the mysteries of the sacraments to the neophytes during the period after the initiation sacraments were received. This fourth-century saint also was known for the mercy he showed. When a famine struck, he sold church goods so that the poor could eat. Today’s Readings: Isaiah 49:8 –15; Psalm 145:8 – 9, 13cd –14, 17–18 (8a); John 5:17– 30.

Thursday, March 19, 2015

St. Joseph, Spouse of the Blessed Virgin Mary

The few details about St. Joseph in the Gospel accounts provide a picture of a man of faith. Because of his faith, Joseph believed the angels who appeared to him, first telling him to take Mary as his wife and then to flee to Egypt with his family. Joseph was willing to follow God’s lead, to go where God needed him to go. How willing are we to put our desires aside to follow God’s path? Today’s Readings: 2 Samuel 7:4 – 5a, 12 –14a, 16; Psalm 89:2 – 3, 4 – 5, 27 and 29 (37); Romans 4:13, 16 –18, 22; Matthew 1:16, 18 – 21, 24a or Luke 2:41– 51a.

Friday, March 20, 2015 Lenten Weekday

During this Lent, you might want to spend some time becoming more acquainted with the psalms. You may find that they speak to your needs, fears, joys, and sorrows. Today’s Psalm 34 tells of how God tends to those who are faithful. He hears them when they cry out and rescues them from their troubles. Perhaps you would like to meditate on a psalm that speaks to how you are feeling this Lent. Today’s Readings: Wisdom 2:1a, 12 – 22; Psalm 34:17– 18, 19 – 20, 21 and 23 (19a); John 7:1– 2, 10, 25 – 30.

Saturday, March 21, 2015 Lenten Weekday

In today’s Gospel, we hear that some regarded Jesus as a prophet and others as the Messiah, while still others had contempt for him. It is tempting to consider this reading as a record of the past. But you can use this retreat time during Lent to ask yourself how you think Jesus is. Has the time that you have spent this Lent with the daily readings provided you with an intimacy with Christ? Are you willing to continue daily practices after Lent to nurture your relationship with Christ? Today’s Readings: Jeremiah 11:18 – 20; Psalm 7:2 – 3, 9bc –10, 11–12 (2a); John 7:40 – 53.

Our Lady of the Valley Regional School OLV is a very caring community whose commitment to that community reaches far and wide.

Last week the National Junior Honor Society worked on a community service project, the Annual OLV Red Cross Blood Drive. If you had been there, you would have seen energetic and dedicated young NJHS members checking in donors and helping in any way possible. These honor students have also worked on group projects that extend beyond the local area: Shoes for Haiti, prayer cards, and student planners for our sister school in Arizona to name just a few. In addition, each student has their own personal service project. Such commitment, from such young people, should be recognized and applauded!

Fourth Sunday of Lent

“For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son...” (John 3:16) Of all the wonderful gifts that God has given to us, the gift of His own Son is truly the greatest. How can we ever thank God for a gift like that? God does not ask us to sacrifice our own precious firstborn, but He does ask that we be generous in making some sacrifices for Him.

Prayer for Those in the Service

Almighty God, we stand before you asking for your divine mercy and protection. Embrace with Your invincible armor our loved ones in all branches of the service. Give them courage and strength against all enemies both spiritual and physical and hasten their safe journey back to their homes and families. Amen

Please remember the following service personnel in your Prayers as they serve and protect our country
