

FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

Careful Pruning

Gracious God,
as the Vine Grower,
you have removed
the places where I have withered.
But where I have born fruit,
where I have grown in joy,
love, patience, kindness,
gentleness, and peace,
you have helped me grow,
so that I may continue to bear more fruit.

The fruit I have born comes from my remaining in Christ and in his Word.
May I continue to remain in Christ and bring you to the world.

I ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ,
your Son,
who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Remaining in Christ

Today's Readings: Acts 9:26-31; Psalm 22; 1 John 3:18-24; John 15:1-8

In the First Reading, we see how meeting Christ can change a person's life. Saul had been so involved in the persecution of Christians that the disciples were "afraid of him." But upon meeting Christ along the road, he turned his life over to God, and "spoke out boldly in the name of the Lord." We have met Christ in the word, sacrament, and encounters through the Holy Spirit in our lives. We are called to ask ourselves if we have let these meetings affect us in a way that others would notice. Are you open to the presence of the Lord changing you?

In the Second Reading from the First Letter of John, we read a simplified version of the Commandments. We are to believe in the name of Christ and love one another as he commanded. Through abiding in these commandments, we remain in Christ.

But what does it mean to abide in Christ? What happens to those who remain in him? In today's reading from John's account of the Gospel, Christ explains that those who remain in him bear fruit. We can think of that fruit as the good relationships in our lives, the positive influences that we have had on others, and the ways in which we have helped build community. How do you ensure that you remain in Christ and will bear good fruit?

FROM YOUR PASTOR

Dear Friends,

This weekend's Gospel reading from John speaks of Jesus' relationship to us using a metaphor of vine and branches. The relationship of the vine and the branch is that of connectedness, life, need for one another, and of bearing fruit. There is dynamism, energy, and growth that we find in this image.

It is also a beautiful image for our community. It challenges us to be rooted closely in Christ no matter what we do and as a matter of fact in everything that we do. To be rooted in the person of Christ means, especially in the Gospel of John, to be rooted (abide, John's favorite word) in the word of God. What is that word?

It is the word, the Gospel of love, compassion, inclusion, peace, life, and truth. All these words are beautiful but challenging, necessary and always lacking in our lives, because all of us, even the best of us, still have to grow each day.

What does it mean for me to abide in love, compassion, and peace and so on? I once heard that first you have to fall in love with the idea of love, compassion and peace. I guess I mentioned it a couple of weeks in a homily. When you are in love with something, it makes it much easier. There is freedom and no coercion. It does not mean it is easy but it is easier.

This weekend and next, we are celebrating First Communion. First Communion, and in fact, even the one thousandth communion, is not simply about eating, though it is. It is first and foremost about becoming what we eat: Christ, or more precisely the body of Christ that is united to Jesus himself and to one another building up a community where love, compassion, inclusion, truth is taught, encouraged and life changing.

I wish to congratulate our young Disciples of Christ as they receive their First Communion and please, remember them in your prayers. May they stay connected to the word, the true vine through our support and encouragement.

Blessed Week,

Fr. Tomasz

This Week At Home

Monday, May 4: Growing in Love through the Spirit

In the Last Supper discourse, Jesus speaks of his love for his disciples and the love of his heavenly Father. He promises the disciples consolation through the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit helps us to grow in love and knowledge of God, and opens our ears to hear and understand the Word of God. The Holy Spirit is the active transforming agent at work in the Church and in the world. Are we listening attentively to God's Word and the voice of the Spirit? Acts 14:5-18; Psalm 115; John 14:21-26

Tuesday, May 5: The Gift of Peace

"Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you." As we see in today's Gospel, the parting gift of Jesus to his disciples is peace. It is not a peace that we can find in the world; it is a peace that conquers all fears and anxieties. All we need to do is turn ourselves over to God to partake of this peace. When have you felt God's peace? In what ways are you living in the peace of Christ and how do you share that peace with others? Today's Acts 14:19-28; Psalm 145; John 14:27-31

Wednesday, May 6: A Choice to be Faithful

Notice in today's Gospel that Jesus says, "Abide in me as I abide in you." There is no question but that Jesus will remain in us; the only question is whether we will decide to remain within Jesus. It is always our choice. God is faithful to us. Our love needs to be just as constant. Only through such love will we bring forth good fruit. How do you nurture the Word of God within you? Acts 15:1-6; Psalm 122; John 15:1-8

Thursday, May 7: Your Joy May Be Complete

It is interesting to read Jesus' reason for why the disciples should keep the two great commandments to love God, and to love one another: "I have said these things to you so that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be complete." Jesus wants all good things for the disciples, and so he explains that they only need to follow those commandments. Acts 15:7-21; Psalm 96; John 15:9-11

Friday, May 8: Loving As God Loves

"This is my commandment that you love one another as I have loved you." The command in today's Gospel is not simple. We are to love each other with the love of the Christ who laid down his life for us. We are called to be the Presence of God in the world. That means loving as God does, not as we see our fellow human beings model love. How does God's love differ from that which humankind usually shows? How challenging is today's Gospel for you? Acts 15:22-31; Psalm 57; John 15:12-17

Saturday, May 9: Privilege and Responsibility

In today's Gospel, we see the difference knowledge of God makes. Jesus tells his disciples that those who will persecute them will do so because "they do not know him who sent me." As Christians, we are privileged that Christ has welcomed us and allowed us to know God. But with that privilege comes responsibility. We need to keep the commandments and spread the Word, allowing others to know Christ. Do you find it hard to keep God's laws when the world is beckoning with its set of rules? Acts 16:1-10; Psalm 100; John 15:18-21
