FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

What a perverse delight we get in paradoxes. When the tiny man defeats the giant we roar with laughter. A child confounds the decorated PhD, and we applaud. Something deep in our spirit sparks to life when the apple-cart is upset in such a surprising way. We recognize that God has a sense of humor, and it gives us hope. Hope that even our own dark failures can be transformed to successes. Hope that next time we will be the weak link He uses to overcome the mighty.

Jesus was the master of paradox. We meet Him today, smearing mud on a blind man's eyes, plastering closed with thick soil eyes already dark. He sealed shut eyes to open them, used mud to make vision clear. All it took was the blind man's faith to stumble just a few steps farther for the miracle to happen.

It's the same for us today. If we trust Him and take those last few steps, even when His purposes are "clear as mud", extraordinary things can happen.

News from your Parish School

Stations of the Cross

Each Friday morning at 8:10 a.m. the 8th grade class and school music ministry leads the school family in The Stations of the Cross.

This Lenten devotional allows time to personally reflect on Jesus' Passion and Death. The prayers, music and responses provide a deeper look at what Christ suffered for each of us and how we are called to respond to this gift as Christians.

Everyone is invited to join us as we walk the Way of the Cross. Join us in acknowledging what our Savior has done for us and embracing our own crosses as we journey toward heaven together.

"No greater love has a man than to lay down his life for his friends." -John 15:13
