Pastor's Notes

In the first part of the Gospel passage, James and John ask that Jesus assure them a place of honor and prestige in the "kingdom" He is going to bring about. Their question reveals that they have a very limited and partial understanding of Jesus' mission, as well as a lust for earthly power and glory. This request by James and John provides Jesus an opportunity to once again predict His suffering and death, as well as the demands of discipleship.

The second part of the passage describes how the other ten disciples become angry with James and John. They are angry because they are envious that James and John requested a special place in God's kingdom before they had a chance.

This whole passage reveals the very human temptations with which all of us struggle: pride, envy, lust, greed, etc.

The second part of the Scripture passage ends with Jesus revealing that the secret to real glory and honor is found through self-sacrificing services.

In short, a person must die to become a disciple of Jesus Christ.

News from your Parish School First Nine Weeks Completed

The first nine weeks of our 126th school year is complete. On Tuesday, Oct. 20 we will dismiss at 1 p.m. for Parent Teacher Conferences and distribution of report cards. We are proud to carry on the tradition of academic excellence in a Christian environment with a focus on high academic standards and Catholic Identity.

We also pride ourselves on sharing the Gospel message with the world around us. Fall field trips are here and grades 3k, 4k, Kinder, 1st, 5th- 8th will all be venturing outside the classroom as near as the Garden Co. and as far as Austin. Students will be learning hands on lessons in a variety of places and subject areas. Their Christ-like conduct will no doubt share our mission of Excellence Through Jesus, teaching others how to be a light in the world.

"Preach the Gospel at all times, and when necessary, use words."

I Saw God Today

*I traveled many miles today,
With a promise in my heart
That God would be at every turn,
In every wondrous part.
He took His vast world canvas,
Brushed in a cloudy sky,
Painted every blade of grass,
and majestic mountains high.
The greatest artist daily adds
A special touch each day.
I know He's always near me-
I kept seeing God today.*
