PARENTS MUST TAKE AN ACTIVE ROLE IN THE EDUCATION OF THEIR CHILDREN

During his General Audience on May 20th, Pope Francis said that parents must not exclude themselves from their children's lives and, despite what some "experts" may say, they must take an active role in their children's education. "It's time for fathers and mothers to come out of their exile -- because they have exiled themselves from their children's education -- and to fully assume again their educational role," he said.

Pope Francis said the "essential characteristic" of the family is its "natural vocation to educate children so that they grow in responsibility for themselves and for others." But, faced with numerous experts who tell them how their children should be raised, many parents have withdrawn their involvement in their children's education, and this is "very grave," he said.

Tensions and disagreements between parents and teachers are a symptom of the crisis, he said, and children bear the brunt of it. He also spoke of the multiplication "of so-called 'experts,' who have taken over the role of parents, even in the most intimate aspects of education," convincing parents their only role is to "listen, learn and adapt." Parents then "tend increasingly to entrust to the 'experts' even the more delicate and personal aspects of their children's lives, setting themselves off alone in a corner," he said.

In trying to demonstrate how "things have changed," the pope told a personal story about when he said a bad word to his fourth-grade teacher, who promptly called his mother. When his mother came to school the next day, she made him apologize to the teacher and then disciplined him when he got home. Today, instead, he said, parents will reprimand a teacher who tries to discipline their child. The pope said it is obvious the current situation is "not good" or "harmonious," since it tends to put families and schools in opposition rather than in collaborative relationships.

In addition, he said, "puzzled by the new demands made by children" and the complexity of life, many parents are "paralyzed by the fear of making a mistake." "Educating children is difficult for parents who see them only in the evening when they return home tired from work," he said. "It is even more difficult for parents who are separated, who are weighed down by their circumstances." He urged separated parents to "never, never, never take a child hostage" by speaking ill of the other parent. He recognized that being separated is "a trial" but added that "children must not be the ones to carry the weight of this separation or to be used like hostages against the other spouse."

Pope Francis also exhorted families to practice patience. "Even in the best of families, there is the need to put up with each other," he said. "But that's life. Life is not lived in a laboratory, it's lived in reality." If families were able to recover their pride in being the primary educators of their children, he said, "many things would change for the better, both for uncertain parents and for disappointed children."

CONGRATULATIONS SMS CLASS OF 2015! - "H15TORY IN THE MAKING"

How many ways can you see growth as a child moves gradually from 4 years old to 14! Each year the parents of our graduates remark on how quickly this journey from childhood to the emerging stage of young adulthood has happened. We loved being with the members of this class – most of them with us from kindergarten and the primary grades, a few joining us for the junior high years. Their SMS friendships have expanded to include their families and the celebrations they have shared along the way have been inclusive and lively – meaning full of life. The St. Margaret Parish community has been a formative part of this metamorphosis – spiritual values are developed in worship and prayer. These young people have been a blessing to one another and to their school.

We wish our "Class of 2015" continued joy in discovering who they are and who they want to be. May they learn the lesson found in The Oak Inside the Acorn by Max Lucado – "Become what God made you to be." And may they live the Gospel message to love God and to love one another. This class is truly "H15TORY IN THE MAKING."

SOUP KITCHEN MINISTRY - 2015 UPDATE

St. Margaret Parish is planning its 6th year of serving at St. Paul's Soup Kitchen, located in the Eliot Church on Summer Street in Lowell. This program provides a free meal at 5:00 pm every week-day, Monday through Friday, to anyone in need. The number of guests at the kitchen has increased from about 80 guests in 2009 to between 130 to 150 visitors per night in 2015.

St. Margaret has 16 Soup Kitchen teams comprised of 10 volunteers per team. Every month, two teams commit to serve at the kitchen. Each team has a leader who coordinates parishioners to contribute a portion of the meal. The current average cost of a meal incurred by a team is $350. This cost is generously donated by our team members!

For those who participate in this ministry, the time commitment is not overly demanding: only two times serving per year. However, volunteers soon realize how critical their contributions are. At the kitchen, there are people from all walks of life. As we interact with the visitors, the stories are varied, but all are in need of a healthy meal and our compassion. For some guests, this is the only meal for the day. Visitors also request takeout meals for the sick and homebound. Many visitors express their heartfelt thanks to our parish team members for the warm meal.

To our current Soup Kitchen team members, we express our sincere thanks for sharing your time, talent, and treasure with those less fortunate. For those who might be interested in joining our Soup Kitchen ministry, please contact Ray Gendron at (978) 649-8895, or email RayGendron@comcast.net.

KEEPING GOD'S HOME & OUR CHURCH CLEAN

Should you find the pew area where you sit littered with soiled or used items, please, let me know before or after Mass. It would be helpful if each of us would make the effort to assure that we have not left behind any used tissues, candy wrappers, plastic bags, or other soiled items on the pew, in the pew racks or on the floor. We are grateful for your support in this effort. ..Father Ray
