PRAYERS RECENTLY COMPOSED BY POPE FRANCIS

In his recent encyclical letter - Laudato Si (On Care for Our Common Home) - Pope Francis has this to say about the prayers below that he personally composed and that end his encyclical letter:

“I propose that we offer two prayers. The first we can share with all who believe in a God who is the all-powerful Creator, while in the other we Christians ask for inspiration to take up the commitment to creation set before us by the Gospel of Jesus.”

A PRAYER FOR OUR EARTH

All-powerful God, you are present in the whole universe and in the smallest of your creatures. You embrace with your tenderness all that exists. Pour out upon us the power of your love, that we may protect life and beauty. Fill us with peace, that we may live as brothers and sisters, harming no one. O God of the poor, help us to rescue the abandoned and forgotten of this earth, so precious in your eyes. Bring healing to our lives, that we may protect the world and not prey on it, that we may sow beauty, not pollution and destruction. Touch the hearts of those who look only for gain at the expense of the poor and the earth. Teach us to discover the worth of each thing, to be filled with awe and contemplation, to recognize that we are profoundly united with every creature as we journey towards your infinite light. We thank you for being with us each day. Encourage us, we pray, in our struggle for justice, love and peace. Amen.

A CHRISTIAN PRAYER IN UNION WITH CREATION

Father, we praise you with all your creatures. They came forth from your all-powerful hand; they are yours, filled with your presence and your tender love. Praise be to you! Son of God, Jesus, through you all things were made. You were formed in the womb of Mary our Mother, you became part of this earth, and you gazed upon this world with human eyes. Today you are alive in every creature in your risen glory. Praise be to you! Holy Spirit, by your light you guide this world towards the Father's love and accompany creation as it groans in travail. You also dwell in our hearts and you inspire us to do what is good. Praise be to you!

Triune Lord, wondrous community of infinite love, teach us to contemplate you in the beauty of the universe, for all things speak of you. Awaken our praise and thankfulness for every being that you have made. Give us the grace to feel profoundly joined to everything that is. God of love, show us our place in this world as channels of your love for all the creatures of this earth, for not one of them is forgotten in your sight. Enlighten those who possess power and money that they may avoid the sin of indifference, that they may love the common good, advance the weak, and care for this world in which we live. The poor and the earth are crying out. O Lord, seize us with your power and light, help us to protect all life, to prepare for a better future, for the coming of your Kingdom of justice, peace, love and beauty. Praise be to you! Amen.

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Ezekiel 2:2-5

2 Corinthians 12:7-10

Mark 6:1-6

“No Prophet Is Without Honor Except in His Native Place”

There must have been a sense of profound sadness in Jesus, as we hear him say in today’s Gospel: No prophet is without honor except in his native place. Jesus must have understood himself to be a prophet - one who would speak for God, one whose message is the very word of God. But Jesus also knew that the fate of prophets was often one of rejection and disbelief. Still, it must have been quite disappointing for Jesus to see awe and wonder in the eyes of the people as he taught them, and then to watch them turn away in disbelief. Their lack of faith would not allow Jesus to minister to them.

The townspeople defended their reaction to Jesus by saying that they knew all about him. They knew his mother and other members of his family. They knew his occupation to be that of a carpenter. And that as far as they knew, he had never studied in the rabbinical school. It was incomprehensible to them that he could teach with such confidence and authority. There must be some mistake! And so they found that he was just too much for them.

Because prophets speak words the people do not expect, because they invite their audience to look at their world from a new perspective - the perspective of God - there is always a great danger that the prophet’s words will be rejected. It is difficult for us to adjust to something new, to something unexpected. In fact, we often do not see something we do not expect to see.

If we speak to the spouses of those who have abused alcohol persistently over a long time and suddenly have become sober, they will often tell us how difficult it is to adjust to the change. They may have prayed ardently for the change. They may have done everything in their power to facilitate the change, but it is still a drastic change from the pattern they were used to. At least, then, they knew what to expect.

Not only was Jesus exercising a new and unexpected role in his hometown, but he was also asking the people to look at their world in a new way. Most likely, Jesus was telling them that God loved each one of them personally and unconditionally, that no one was excluded from that love. Health and wealth were not necessarily signs of God’s favor, and poverty and sickness were not signs of God’s displeasure. God’s desire is that all will be welcomed into a community of love, that all are called to be children of God and to treat one another as dear brothers and sisters. This would be a very different message from what they would hear from their synagogue leaders.

Where do we hear the voice of the prophet today? The prophet interprets God’s word to us in the context of our times and culture. When we listen to them, how do we receive their message? Usually, the message of a prophet makes us feel uncomfortable. Change is difficult and we do not like to think about it. However, if we can listen non-defensively, we will be inspired by the prophet’s confidence and trust in God. The true prophet always points to God and to God’s desire for our world - and not to the prophet! True prophets tend to draw people together rather than create division.

This week let us ask God to make us aware of the prophetic voices of our own day and age and to give us the courage and the willingness of heart to pay attention to them.

Shalom! ..Peace be with you! ..Father Ray

SPIRITUAL ADOPTION PROGRAM UPDATE - MONTH THREE

Your spiritually adopted baby weighs one ounce and is quite active in the womb, although this won’t be felt by the mother for another couple of months. If the mother’s womb had a window, you would be able to watch the baby squint, swallow, move its tongue, and even make a fist. Your baby obtains oxygen breathing fluid through its mother’s umbilical cord and will continue to do so until birth!

God our Father, you are the Author of life and we pray for your blessing and protection over this little life that is developing in its mother’s womb. We pray that you would grant an uncomplicated pregnancy and a healthy birth. And we thank you for the beauty of new life. ~ ~ Amen.

Jesus travels to His hometown and He is greeted with skepticism and doubt. He preaches to them and, despite what they have heard and the things they have witnessed, they do not accept Him. Their lack of faith so distressed Him that He could not work a miracle there, except for a few cures. Their closed minds and hearts blocked the flow of grace and nothing happened.

All too often in the church today, priests, deacons and religious are greeted with skepticism and doubt. In their own towns and parishes, their ministry and preaching is greeted with gossip and indifference. The lack of appreciation is a heavy burden that is added to the overwhelming work of ministering to others, especially in times of great need. As a community of faith, we need to honor the work of those who serve, for their task is neither easy nor light. First, pray for them that they may have the strength and courage to serve and lead. They too are clay vessels of God's grace. Second, tell them you appreciate them and their work. Offer positive support for a homily well done, a special visit to the sick, or ministry at times of funerals, weddings and sacraments. Your gifts of time, talent and treasure go a long way to boost the morale and confidence of those who serve us. It lets them know concretely that they too are part of the community and not just a functionary in times of need. Be supportive, be helpful, and be generous. It helps God's grace to flow!

KEEPING GOD'S HOME & OUR CHURCH CLEAN

Should you find the pew area where you sit littered with soiled or used items, please, let me know before or after Mass. It would be helpful if each of us would make the effort to assure that we have not left behind any used tissues, candy wrappers, plastic bags, or other soiled items on the pew, in the pew racks or on the floor. We are grateful for your support in this effort. ..Father Ray
