"So be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect."

In the game of Poker "Up the ante" means the cost to play a hand is going higher. When Jesus was asked how to gain eternal life, he consistently responded by recalling what God told Moses to tell the Israelites, "Love God and love your neighbor as yourself." For the people of his day, loving God was a matter of following the minutia of the law and offering sacrifice. But Jesus "Ups the ante" by telling his disciples, and us, "Love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you" and "So be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect."

It is not sufficient that we love those who love us, or even those that we perceive do not love us. To truly imitate Jesus we must love those we believe to be our enemies. We do not have to love what they do. In the words of St. Augustine, we "hate the sin but not the sinner." Difficult, yes! But the military has an expression, "The difficult we do at once, the impossible takes a little longer." That is the challenge of Jesus to us when he "Ups the ante."

Vocation Awareness

"for the wisdom of this world is foolishness in the eyes of God, for it is written: God catches the wise in their own ruses"

Through the eyes of our contemporary world, it might seem foolish to live a life of prudence and simplicity, a life of prayer and service. When we realize that our final end is communion with God, living a life of virtue becomes a desire. Let us be foolish in the ways of the world and seek to become wise in the ways of God. If you have thought of serving God as a Catholic Priest, contact the vocations office: www.owensborovocations.com, 270-683-1545, jason.mcclure@pastoral.org

Live the Liturgy

In today's Gospel Jesus tells us to love our enemies and to pray for those who persecute us. It is one of the most challenging commands of the Gospel for believers. We should consider how well we fulfill this command of the Lord.

Why Do We Do That? Catholic Traditions Explained

Question:

Is it true that Friday is still a day of abstinence? If so, why do we eat meat?

Answer:

Church law and practice is universal, but some things can be changed or modified by a conference of bishops with Rome's approval. Abstaining from meat is a good example. Canon 1251 says, "Abstinence from eating meat or another food according to the prescriptions of the conference of bishops is to be observed on Fridays throughout the year unless they are solemnities." The bishops in the USA obtained permission from Rome to do penitential and charitable works in place of abstinence on Fridays. Friday should still maintain its penitential character through our personal sacrifices and good works. Our personal practices are not limited or defined by church law.

A chip on the shoulder is the heaviest load anyone can carry.

Mini Edition

'And behold, I am with you always' - Matthew 28:20

Last week we began a three-part series on Eucharistic Adoration. We hope you enjoyed it and learned a few things about Perpetual Eucharistic Adoration. This week's column has even more questions and answers to help you feel more comfortable if you choose to participate in Adoration.

We hope that after you read this series you feel moved to commit to a regular hour each week or month. Of course, Perpetual Eucharistic Adoration is for everyone and you are welcome at anytime, day or night.

How do you get people to volunteer their time during the overnight hours?

You would be surprised! Many of our overnight adorers enjoy the extra solitude of the late night hours. Some work a late second or third shift and then spend an hour in the chapel on their way home. We do still have several overnight hours that are not regularly scheduled. If you aren't comfortable committing to an hour every week or every month, consider being included on the substitute list and perhaps taking an overnight hour if asked to do so.

What if I cannot be there for my scheduled hour?

You will receive a list of substitutes and we ask that you make an attempt to find someone from that list. If you are unable to find a substitute, please contact one of the Adoration Coordinators for assistance.

Why is it so important that someone is always present?

The Eucharist is not just an item that reminds us of Christ, but it is the physical body of Christ himself. The exposition in the monstrance leaves Christ vulnerable and must be properly attended at ALL times. Just as a Marine would never leave the body of another fallen Marine behind, faithful Catholics would never leave Christ's Body unattended, EVER.

How long does this commitment last?

It lasts as long as you want it to last. Many people have had the same hour since Perpetual Adoration was started. We just ask that you not stop coming without calling us to let us know to take your name off the schedule.

Adoration is a time to clear my head of any distracting thoughts. It is where I can focus solely on Jesus and talk to Him, pray for everyone and everything that comes to my mind, and sit in silence to find out what He has to say to me in return. If I have the opportunity to spend time with Jesus, why wouldn't I want to as often as I could?

- Toni Hatton, Saint Thomas More Parishioner
