Lifetouch Portraits July 14 - 18

From the Pastor's Desk

Today is the Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time.

We are most grateful to the members of our Society of Catholic Women (SCW) for their end of the fiscal year gift of $5500 to support the work and mission of Saint Hugh Parish. In addition to fundraising, the SCW provides spiritual and social activities for its members and for our parish. Thank you!

I hope that you are ready to smile and be a part of our 90th anniversary album. In addition to having a professional portrait and receiving the book at no charge, Lifetouch will donate the value of four meals for every family photographed. FEED THE NEED funds will go to our SVdP and the Food Pantry of Lyons. A coupon for $5 will also be given to those who bring nonperishable food items to their sitting. Be a part of this. Schedule your photography appointment today.

We recently rearranged some of the furniture in the sanctuary to draw greater attention to the Ambo and to position the baptismal font in front of the Holy Family rather than the Tabernacle. Last week's bulletin included an article on the liturgical importance of the Ambo. This week I call the reader's attention to Father Paul Turner's article on the liturgical importance of the Font.

Your invitation to the Ozanam Orientation is found on this page in the far right column. Kindly RSVP by Thursday.

Let us continue to pray for one another and for our parish.

Father Reszel

New Life in Christ

Harley L'ange Moudry, daughter of Angelica (Galan) and Richard Lee Moudry, was baptized on Sunday July 5. Congratulations.

To Teach Who Christ Is a campaign update on parish projects

Upgrades to the parish phone system are nearly complete. The bulletin and website will soon include the extension numbers for dedicated voice mailboxes for the members of our pastoral staff and several parish ministries.

2016 Mass Intentions are now available

Parish Masses are offered for the intentions of all who are present. A special intention for the Mass may also be requested. It is usually announced in the bulletin and included in the Universal Prayer. The intention of one Mass each weekend is always for the people or Intention of the Parish. To arrange for a 2015 or 2016 intention at Saint Hugh, contact Christine Alfred at the parish office 708.447.3108.

Foster Hospitality:

- Before Mass: Greet one another. Introduce yourself. Move toward the center of the pew so that it is easier for others to enter. Silence your phone. Smile.
- During Mass: Actively participate. Sing. Take the initiative at the sign of peace. Pray with and for each other. Smile.
- After Mass: Return two copies of Breaking Bread to each book rack. Return the Order of Service card to the hat clip with the word WELCOME being the first thing that the next person will see. Put the kneelers up so that it is easier for the next person to enter. Remove whatever you have brought into the pew including the bulletin, tissues, diapers, papers, and water bottles. Smile.

Since lunch is provided, you are asked to register at the parish office by Thursday July 16.

Frederic Ozanam

The Society of Saint Vincent de Paul is a Catholic lay organization that helps those in need or those living in poverty. Vincentians grow spiritually by offering person-to-person service to people in need, because they see the face of Christ in those they serve as Jesus taught.

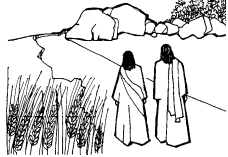

This international society was founded in Paris, France in 1833 by a young student, Frederic Ozanam. SVdP was founded in the United States in 1845 and currently serves in 149 countries.

Our Conference is a small group of dedicated women and men who are inviting you to consider joining us and making a difference. Not only will you be helping those in need but you will find yourself growing in God's love and the desire to share that love with others. Learn more at the Ozanam Orientation on Saturday July 18.

God's Word Today

Today we hear three stories about people being chosen by God: Amos the prophet, the Twelve, and all those who are baptized into Christ - which means us! So often when we think about people such as prophets and apostles who were chosen by God to fulfill a special task, we think about old bearded men who seem so far off and remote. Yet these were people like us, who chose to respond to God's call within the context of their everyday lives. Perhaps today's scriptures are inviting us to remember the call that was issued by God at the moment of our baptism. Listen to the words of Saint Paul in today's second reading to discover just what that call entails. Our world is still in desperate need of prophets and apostles. Peace and justice seem so elusive in our time. Perhaps today's word of God will inspire us to respond to God's call to bring the gospel of salvation to those we meet in our everyday lives.

Font by Paul Turner

The baptismal font is the womb from which Christians are born. As physical birth happens only once, so does our spiritual birth. Although fonts originated as part of the furnishings for cathedrals, today virtually every Christian church building maintains a font to facilitate the welcome of new members.

Fonts have many traditional shapes. Some are round, recalling a mother's womb. Some are cruciform, showing our sharing in the death of Christ. Others are tomb-shaped for the same reason. Still others form an octagon, reminding us that Christ rose on the "eighth day" of the week, a day outside normal time, like the eternity we will share with him through our baptism.

The font may be placed in one of many traditional locations. Some are in a room to themselves. Originally, fonts were in separate buildings. At the Easter Vigil, the assembly would go out to the font to attend the baptisms, then bring the newly baptized into the church for the Eucharist. Some of our fonts, in rooms by themselves, keep this tradition, but small rooms make it difficult for the assembly to celebrate with the newly baptized. For this reason, other fonts are placed in or near the sanctuary for better visibility, or near the door of the church to symbolize our entry into the Christian community. In churches where the faithful enter each Sunday past the baptistry, they may use it to sign themselves with holy water. We remind ourselves of our baptism in Christ each time we enter our churches. Some parishes have a movable font—they wheel it in for baptisms and wheel it out afterwards. It helps visibility but lacks the reverence of a stable place.

Many fonts are large enough for full immersion of the candidate. Others are small to accommodate pouring water over the head of an infant. Both forms of baptism are permitted, but a renewed interest in immersion in the universal church is introducing larger fonts in full view of the assembly, suitable for fully symbolizing our death and rising in Christ.

Some fonts resemble fountains, with flowing water even when baptisms are not celebrated. The running water symbolizes life in Christ.

The font is one of the most sacred areas of our churches. It deserves the reverence of the faithful, for it is there where we are reborn, where our family grows, and where we first meet Christ, whose resurrection is our destiny.

Call and Response

"They preached repentance" (Mark 6:12). Jesus sent out the Twelve on test missions to herald God's coming reign and to heal all who heard them. He warned them to stay and preach only where they were welcomed. They were to do this not because they were lazy, but to show that God's freely given gifts need to be freely received. This is God's mysterious plan. The Lord of heaven and earth calls us generously, but we need to respond in kind. Will we answer the call to God's reign?

Treasures from our tradition

Many marriage customs stand in tension with modern American attitudes and values, notably "giving away the bride," which is no longer in the Catholic liturgy, and reminds us of a time when marriage was a contract between men (the groom and the bride's father). A Mexican custom, now approved for use in the United States, has a very different message.

An ancient Roman custom called for smashing pieces of gold and silver so that bride and groom could each keep half. This is the origin of today's Mexican practice of the groom giving thirteen gold coins to the bride, symbolically placing all his worldly goods into her care, and a sign of his unconditional trust. The coins are often given in beautiful gift boxes and are retained as an heirloom. Why thirteen? The standard explanation is that they represent Jesus and the apostles. The priest blesses the coins and pours them into the bride's cupped hands. Then she entrusts them to the groom, who later pours them back into her hands. This enduring ritual is in such harmony with our tradition's view of marriage that it is now increasingly performed by English-speaking Hispanic Catholics at weddings in the United States.

Stewardship thought

He instructed them to take nothing for the journey but a walking stick – no food, no sack, no money in their belts. - MARK 6:8

How different we are from the Apostles who took nothing when they ventured out to serve God. Today, we make our journey through life more difficult because of all the material baggage that we drag along. Yet, the more we can let go of, the freer we are to serve God with love and joy.
