From the Pastor's Desk

Today is the Twentieth-second Sunday in Ordinary Time. I look forward to seeing many of you at our annual parish picnic. This is a great opportunity to visit with fellow parishioners and to learn more about various ministries within our community. Volunteers are always needed and this a perfect time to sign-up.

Meteorological Autumn begins on Tuesday. I call the reader's attention to information on this page concerning September 1 as World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation. Our daily Mass at 10:30am on Tuesday will include this intention of the Holy Father. I have also included a copy of the Saint Francis Pledge for individuals, families, or others who might want to more formally commit to this global effort.

I will be away from the parish Friday, Saturday, and Sunday celebrating some of the holiday weekend with my family. My thanks to Father Bonin, Father Kricsek, and the Comboni Missionaries for allowing me to do this. I will be back at Saint Hugh for the Mass on Labor Day, Monday September 7. During the holiday Mass at 10:30am we will bless the tools or symbols of our work. Those attending are encourage to bring a work related item for the blessing.

Let us continue to pray for one another and for our parish.

Father Reszel

Question of the Week

What Catholic tradition enriches my personal faith life? How does it prompt me to translate my spiritual devotion into practical love toward my neighbor?

World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation: September 1

Pope Francis has declared September 1 a worldwide day of prayer for our earth. He asks all people--of all faiths around the world--to gather in prayer for our common home and reflect on ways that we can work collectively to care for the environment. Concern for the environment thus needs to be joined to a sincere love for our fellow human beings and an unwavering commitment to resolving the problems of society. -Pope Francis, Laudato Si' #91

The Saint Francis Pledge

I/We Pledge to:

PRAY and reflect on the duty to care for God's Creation and protect the poor and vulnerable.

LEARN about and educate others on the causes and moral dimensions of climate change.

ASSESS how we-as individuals and in our families, parishes and other affiliations contribute to climate change by our own energy use, consumption, waste, etc.

ACT to change our choices and behaviors to reduce the ways we contribute to climate change.

ADVOCATE for Catholic principles and priorities in climate change discussions and decisions, especially as they impact those who are poor and vulnerable.

Death Over Dinner

Life Matters Media, co-founded by Randi Belisomo, of WGN-TV, and Mary F. Mulcahy, Associate Professor in the Department of Hematology Oncology at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine, will offer a discussion over dinner open to the community on Thursday, September 10 at 6:00pm at La Grange Country Club, 620 S. Brainard, La Grange. The cost of dinner and materials is $40.

The program will offer a valuable opportunity to discuss how terminal patients can take control of their lives in the form of preparing a will, planning for children, identifying their legacy or communicating advanced directives.

The ability to facilitate a frank discussion can bring peace to both the patient and the caregiver. To make reservations call Aging Care Connections 708.354.1323

God's Word Today

Today Saint James offers us a reminder: "Humbly welcome the word that has been planted in you and is able to save your souls." He goes on to tell us to be "doers of the word and not hearers only." What does it mean to be "doers of the word"? Perhaps what we are called to do is to be more attentive when the scriptures are proclaimed. Too often the sacred word just goes by us, without making any impression. We need to become people who expect that God's word will have an impact on us each and every week when we gather in this holy place. God's word is meant to transform us—our attitudes and actions—into people who radiate Christ, the one who is the eternal Word of the Father. As the word of God is proclaimed today let us pray that we will honor God with hearts transformed and spirits uplifted by that very word.

Jazz Concert Celebrates Thomas Merton's Centenary

Internationally recognized vibraphonist Dick Sisto will perform music composed for the documentary Soul Searching - The Journey of Thomas Merton and share remembrances of his friendship with Merton in a 3:00pm performance on Sunday September 20 at St. Gregory the Great Church, 5545 N. Paulina, Chicago. Noted jazz guitarist Fr. John Moulder will also be featured in this 90-minute centenary tribute to Merton. Doors open at 2:30pm / admission is $15.

Author of The Seven Storey Mountain, New Seeds of Contemplation, and Zen and the Birds of Appetite, Thomas Merton wrote more than 70 books that include poetry, personal journals, collections of letters, social criticism, and writings on peace, justice, and ecumenism. He was born 100 years ago in Prades, France. He died at a monastic conference in Thailand in late 1968. A monk of Our Lady of Gethsemani Abbey in Kentucky, Merton was also a jazz enthusiast who met several times with Sisto in 1967 and 1968 to discuss Zen Buddhism, mysticism and jazz.

This program is sponsored by the Chicago Chapter of the International Thomas Merton Society. For more information, contact Mike Brennan 773.447.3989 or cc.itms@gmail.com.

Eucharistic Prayer I by Paul Turner

The first Eucharistic Prayer is lengthy and ponderous. Its repetitive structure so differs from the other prayers that it can be hard to follow. Yet throughout our history as a church, the Roman rite has used no other eucharistic prayer more frequently. Inspired by St. Ambrose in the fourth century, it became the only eucharistic prayer permissible in the Roman liturgy until the Second Vatican Council. Having no preface of its own, it accepted one chosen for the feast, season or occasion. The rest of the prayer remained unchanged since about the seventh century and assumed the title "canon" because it was the only one. Now because we have so many eucharistic prayers, it is less accurate to call any of them a "canon."

The prayer balances across the account of the Last Supper. We pray for the living in the first half, for the dead in the second. We ask intercession from some saints in the first half, and from others in the second. The prayer never included an explicit appeal to the Holy Spirit, which caused some controversy among the Eastern rites noted for their devotion to the third person of the Trinity. Consequently, every single eucharistic prayer approved since Vatican II includes an explicit "epiclesis"—a request for the Holy Spirit to change the bread and wine into the Body and Blood of Christ.

Although fixed in form, Prayer I offers internal options. The prefaces change. The lists of the saints may be abbreviated. Many subsections conclude with an optional formula: "Through Christ our Lord. Amen." Prayer I also permits a special acknowledgment of some feasts such as Christmas, Holy Thursday and Easter.

Before Vatican II, Pope John XXIII authorized one last change to the Roman canon: He included Joseph among the list of saints. A few years after the council, the memorial acclamation was added as well. Eucharistic Prayer I is admittedly hard to follow, but its endurance gives testimony to the timelessness of the Catholic faith.

Backbone

Lobster shell or backbone? Which do we want? The law can be used in different ways. Jesus argued for law as backbone. He looked at the real purpose of "clean and unclean," "exterior and interior," adherence to the word planted within. When law is backbone, then we have cause to exercise and grow in the Lord, supported and strengthened in the truth. In this life, Christ Jesus, who is the way of service to one another, leads us by the power of the Holy Spirit to the Father.

Treasures from our tradition

Last week's discussion of the permanent diaconate and its restoration will lead inevitably to questions about "deaconesses," something certainly under study as historians and liturgists research our tradition's treasures. Today, there are some settings in which women are entrusted with pastoral administration and have been called to preach and to officiate at weddings. Lay people can lead the funeral rites and daily prayer. Yet the question of ordination to the diaconate for women is complex. Yes, we have had deaconesses in our tradition. We know that they assisted with the baptism of women, and that ministries were entrusted to them. We also know that some early church councils took care to call them lay persons, and specifically forbade ordination. What confuses the picture is that they may have been the wives of deacons, who, like the wives of priests and bishops, were expected to serve the community as exemplars of the Christian life. Long after deaconesses disappeared, their ministry was treasured and carried on by religious women in consecrated life. It is clear that one of our greatest treasures is the vibrant engagement of women in ministry over the centuries. What is not as clear is where our questions will lead.
