From the Pastor's Desk

Today is the Nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time.

The Parish Pastoral Council will meet on Monday August 8. This is a final reminder to share your comments regarding the proposal to group Saint Hugh Parish (Lyons) with Saint Mary Parish and School (Riverside) and Saint Pius X Parish (Stickney) for the Renew My Church initiative. In November, Archbishop Blase Cupich will finalize the parish groupings.

A bookmark with the San Damiano Cross (from Assisi) and the Renew My Church prayer should be in each copy of the Breaking Bread hymnal for your use in church. The image and prayer are also printed in the next column for your use at home.

The previous paragraph was intended to be an encouragement to BOTH pray for the Renew My Church initiative of the Archdiocese of Chicago AND to take a copy of the bulletin home for future reference and/or to share with others. Take an additional copy for your relatives, neighbors, or friends.

The names of the scheduled reader, Eucharistic ministers, altar servers, and Manna agent for a given weekend Mass are now available on the calendar page of our parish website: www.sthughlyons.org. Direct access to the parish calendar is also available at: www.tinyurl.com/sthughcalendar. Simply click on the desired Mass for the names of the scheduled ministers.

Let us continue to pray for one another and for our parish.

Father Reszel

Renew My Church prayer

Lord Jesus, you speak to us today, as you spoke to holy men and women who have gone before us. In every age and in our own time, you call to us and say: Renew My Church.

Pour out the gift of your Holy Spirit upon us, and enable us

- to hear you clearly
- to listen to each other attentively
- to imagine our future boldly
- to discern your direction wisely
- to persevere in your holy will courageously
- to stay together in charity
- to surrender our own plans readily
- to embrace the greater good
- to hand on your gifts to future generations.

May we remain in the holy company of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the apostles, and all the saints. May their example and presence inspire us with patient confidence in the work of your grace.

We ask this of you who live and reign with the Father in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever. Amen

Of musical note

by Fran Serpe, Music Director

Last month, I attended the National Pastoral Musicians convention in Houston, TX. It began with a Leadership Retreat facilitated by native American composer Trevor Thomson. His works include songs we know: Christ in Me, Arise and We Belong to You. He welcomed Jesus, our chief, by drumming and singing: You are all I need. You've breathed your life in me, and I'm alive. I'm alive in you.

Other inspiring words he took from Mother Teresa: When you meet someone, leave them better and happier.

I was happy to hear about some of the benefits of singing: 1) Increases oxygen causing alertness, 2) Improves muscle tone, 3) Improves coordination, 4) Increases ability to listen & multitask, 5) Enhances emotions, 6) Releases endorphins to kill pain. He concluded with the Indian custom of thanking the ancestors who care about us.

All of this took place on Monday morning. I hope to share with you some high points of other events during that week. My goal is to enhance our sung liturgies with joy for your benefit and God's glory. Thank you for your support and encouragement.

Question of the week

What changes do I have to make to ensure that I recognize Jesus in all others? More challenging, what changes do I have to make to ensure that others recognize Jesus ready to love and care for them in me?

Jubilee of Mercy: December 8, 2015 - November 20, 2016

Last Sunday's "Parable of the rich fool" delivered a compelling reason to do the right thing--now: "You fool, this night your life will be demanded of you" (Luke 12:20). Today, Jesus warns us: "You also must be prepared, for at an hour you do not expect, the Son of Man will come" (12:40). Though we do not know when our Master will come, we do know what our Master expects to find. Jesus expects us to be vigilant (12:37) and diligent (12:42) in our work for the kingdom, but also filled with reverent mercy toward our fellow servants and ourselves. Hopefully, Jesus' warning not to get drunk and beat each other up (12:45) does not apply to us literally! But what changes do I need to make, right now, so that the many people outside "the Master's house" will want to come inside to experience the healing comfort of Jesus' own mercy in the compassion of Jesus' modern-day disciples? - Peter Scagnelli, Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

Stewardship thought

"For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be." LUKE 12:34

Jesus encourages us to build up our treasure in heaven. The world encourages us to build up our treasure in real estate, investments, and material goods. How much time are you investing in building up a worldly treasure? How much time are you investing in building up a heavenly treasure? To invest more time in the things of heaven, you must let go of some of the things of this world.

Genuflection by Paul Turner

A genuflection is the action begun from a standing position in which a worshiper moves his or her right foot back a step, drops the right knee briefly to the floor, and then stands upright again. Most people naturally bow their head while performing this action; some make the sign of the cross. Some hold onto a nearby pew for physical support. The purpose of genuflection is for the worshiper to honor Jesus Christ present in the Blessed Sacrament.

The priest genuflects three times at Mass. During the eucharistic prayer he genuflects after showing the consecrated bread to the people, and then after showing the cup. He genuflects again before announcing, "This is the Lamb of God." Taken together, his genuflections affirm the central belief about the Mass: during the eucharistic prayer, the Holy Spirit changes the bread and wine into the Body and Blood of Christ; that food then becomes communion for the faithful.

Additional genuflections should be made in churches where a tabernacle containing the Blessed Sacrament is in the sanctuary. In those cases, the priest genuflects before and after Mass, and anyone passing in front of the tabernacle also genuflects to it. Since a tabernacle containing the Blessed Sacrament is commonly found in sanctuaries of Catholic churches, the faithful typically make a genuflection toward the tabernacle before entering and after leaving their place.

In churches where the tabernacle is not in the sanctuary, the faithful should instead bow to the altar before and after the service. Genuflection is directed not toward the altar, not toward the cross, not toward one's proximity to a pew, but to the presence of Christ in the Blessed Sacrament. On Good Friday, though, at the close of the service, all genuflect to the cross.

Formerly it was customary to make a genuflection before a bishop and a double genuflection (both knees to the ground) when the Blessed Sacrament was exposed for adoration. These practices have been eliminated. A single genuflection is always appropriate before the Blessed Sacrament whether it is in the tabernacle or exposed in a monstrance; you may bow to a bishop if you wish.

Treasures from the tradition

Last week's "Treasure" noted that the official headgear of the pope, the tiara, has been set aside in favor of the miter. Although Pope Paul VI had a coronation in 1963 to begin his ministry as pope, he later gave his tiara away to the Catholics of the United States as a stimulus to end poverty. He took care to say that he was not abolishing the tradition of coronation, but his successor, Pope John Paul I, decided to have an inauguration to begin his tragically short term. His successors have chosen inauguration as well. Pope John Paul II felt that a return to the coronation custom would be inappropriate since the Church was mourning the sudden death of a man already nicknamed The Laughing Pope.

So the end of coronations came about not because Paul VI gave the crown away. There are more than twenty tiaras on hand at the Vatican. One is used every year to crown the famous statue of St. Peter, whose sandaled foot has been eroded to a bright shine by the hands of millions of pilgrims. Today, it is left to the individual pope to decide whether he will begin his formal reign with a coronation or an inauguration. Pope Benedict chose an inauguration, as did Pope Francis.

JUBILEE OF MERCY

CLAIM

When we stand before God, we can make no claims on him. The only thing that we can claim is our need of his mercy. And if we make that claim with deep sincerity of heart, God will hear us. God will grant us the mercy that we need. "But the tax-collector, standing far off, would not even look up to heaven, but was beating his breast and saying, 'God, be merciful to me, a sinner!' I tell you, this man went down to his home justified." (Luke 18:13-14)
