From the Pastor's Desk

Today is the Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time. We welcome Samuel J. Schultz, a seminarian from Mundelein Seminary to speak about vocations to the diocesan priesthood and encourage our financial support of the seminaries of the Archdiocese of Chicago. A letter from Archbishop Cupich regarding this collection is at the far right.

The Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick will be celebrated during the 10:30am Mass on Monday September 26, the memorial of the martyrs Cosmas and Damian; patrons of physicians, surgeons, druggists, barbers, and the blind. Kindly make this communal celebration known to those who would benefit from receiving this sacrament of healing at this time. For information about this sacrament including its name and who should receive, see Father Paul Turner's article on page four of this bulletin.

Saturday October 1 is our fourth annual Halfway to Saint Hugh Day. Since our patron's feast-day, April 1, often occurs during Holy Week or Easter Week, we have fittingly added to our parish calendar a celebration of the holy bishop of Grenoble six months before/after the actual memorial. Arrangements are being made for a casual dinner immediately following the 4:00pm Mass. It is my wish that this party will continue to evolve and that all will be welcome.

After a break for the summer, our deacon, Frank Mamolella, will lead a holy hour of prayer before the Blessed Sacrament on an every-other-week basis beginning at 4:00pm on Sunday October 2.

Let us continue to pray for one another and for our parish.

Father Reszel

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

Last year, in speaking to a conference in Rome, Pope Francis reminded the participants that "the vocation to the priesthood is a gift that God gives to some for the good of all."

This weekend as we celebrate and pray for our own seminarians in the Archdiocese of Chicago, I ask you once again for your financial support of them.

We currently have sixty-seven seminarians preparing for a life of service as your future pastors. Their motivation and enthusiasm for serving in the Church through a life-long commitment is inspiring to us all, promoting us to offer in return our prayers, fraternal encouragement and financial support. Many of you have personally told me how much you enjoy meeting our seminarians whenever they visit parishes and I know you come away from those experiences with a renewed sense of hope for the future.

We in turn as a community need to stand with them during their years of preparation and for this reason I invite you to join with me in making this year's seminarian collection a great success. Contributions made to this collection alleviate monthly expenses such as tuition and fees ($1,850), room and board ($950), formation programs ($250), and health insurance ($190) for each seminarian and will be used solely for the formation of new priests for the Archdiocese of Chicago.

You may make a one-time donation no less than our weekly contribution to your parish, or establish a monthly contribution to the collection. Your gift, whatever the amount, will have a great impact on our seminarians, as they see first-hand your willingness to stand in solidarity with them.

During the Renew My Church consultation, one of the top priorities identified was the need to promote vocations to the priesthood. We are doing everything possible in this regard, but I do need your support through prayer and donations to the seminarian collection.

Thank you for your commitment to our seminarians. You can rely on me joining you in prayer for them as well as my remembrance of your needs as I thank God for your many gifts.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Most Reverend Blase J. Cupich
Archbishop of Chicago

Jubilee of Mercy: December 8, 2015 - November 20, 2016

Amos castigates religious people who, "comfortably complacent" (6:1, 5), ignore the unfolding collapse of culture, nation, religion (6:6). In Jesus' parable, such complacency becomes the rich man's undoing. He neither hurt nor harmed Lazarus, neither denied him leftovers nor ordered him removed. That is Jesus' devastating point. The rich man did nothing wrong to Lazarus; he just did nothing at all good for him. Only in death, separated by "a great chasm" (Luke 16:26), could the rich man finally see Lazarus, whom he had failed to see in life, right before his eyes. Like the rich man's "five brothers still in my father's house" (16:27-28), we who are alive in the Church still have time to see that same Someone, Jesus, lying neglected right at our door--and time to do something. Who, specifically, concretely, practically, is

Last Rites by Paul Turner

If you've witnessed the anointing of the sick lately, you know anointing ain't what it used to be. In the old days, if the priest arrived for the anointing, or "extreme unction," or "last rites," you knew your hours were numbered.

Today the sacrament is no longer reserved for the dying. In fact, you can make a case that the dying should not be anointed at all. You can have "last rites" without a priest.

The rite of anointing is part of a book called Pastoral Care of the Sick. "Extreme unction" means "last anointing," and that term has been discontinued in favor of a broader term - the pastoral care of the sick.

The document says, "Great care and concern should be taken to see that those of the faithful whose health is seriously impaired by sickness or old age receive this sacrament. The sacrament may be repeated if the sick person recovers after being anointed and then again falls ill or if during the same illness the person's condition becomes more serious. A sick person may be anointed before surgery whenever a serious illness is the reason for the surgery. Elderly people may be anointed if they have become notably weakened even though no serious illness is present."

In short, anointing prays for recovery. If you're gravely sick, the time has come to anoint. If you're dying, however, we have a separate ritual called "Commendation of the Dying." It does not include the anointing of the sick. However, the rites for the dying should include another sacrament—communion given as "viaticum," or "food for the journey." The sacrament of the dying is "last communion," and it may be offered by any communion minister.

After someone dies, we offer "Prayers for the Dead." Again, they do not include an anointing. Among the requirements to celebrate the sacraments in the Catholic church is to be a living, breathing, human being. After you've died, you don't need sacraments any more—you've got the real thing.

At your parish church, you probably only witness the anointing of the sick and not the rites for the dying—since pastoral care of the dying is generally offered in hospitals and homes. You might call all the prayers for the dying "last rites," and a priest need not be present for them. The church gladly offers its pastoral care as freely as it can.

Stewardship thought

My child, remember that you received what was good during your lifetime while Lazarus likewise received what was bad; but now he is comforted here, whereas you are tormented. Moreover, between us and you a great chasm is established... LUKE 16:25-26

When God created the world He declared that it was good and He gave it to all mankind for us to enjoy. However, over the years we have created a chasm between those who have great gifts and those who do not. In today's Gospel we see that with our own generosity we must bridge that gap between those who have much and those who have little or we may find ourselves on the wrong side of the chasm in the next life.

Women, Wine, & the Word

On Saturday October 8 at 7:00pm we will read a biblical love story, share our thoughts, drink wine, while we eat chocolate and cheese. Open to all women (21+). While there is no charge for this event, reservations are required. RSVP at 708.447.3108 by 10/3 and read: Jacob & Rachel - The Kiss Genesis 29:1-- 30:24

Treasures from the tradition

We've been thinking about names lately, and there is hardly any tradition older than changing one's name when accepting a new vocation in life. In the time of Jesus, people would normally wait until the eighth day after birth for the naming of a child, partly because of the fragility of infant life, when the eighth day would mark the end of a survival crisis, and also because the elders would look for some clues as to the child's identity. In Jewish life then as now, it was not the custom to name a child after a living parent; notice there are no "juniors" in the genealogy of Jesus. Remember also how the relatives complained to Zachary and Elizabeth that no one in their family was ever named John. Then there are the changed names, Abram became Abraham, Sarai became Sarah, Saul became Paul, Simon became Peter. This spills over into Western culture in many ways, such as British royalty taking new names at coronation. It's anybody's guess, for example, whether the Prince of Wales intends to be King Charles II, or become Henry, or Edward, or George if he wishes.

Members of religious orders have until recent years swapped baptismal names for new ones, and the latest pope made a switch as well. Secular life has many parallels, and movie stars like Cary Grant, Judy Garland, and John Wayne might not have shone so brightly as Archie Leach, Frances Gumm, and Marion Morrison. There are some compelling reasons in our tradition for taking a new name when undertaking a new mission, yet also a clear preference for choosing the right baptismal name from the start!

JUBILEE OF MERCY SEARCH

God's mercy does not wait for us to approach the throne of grace. God's mercy is an active force in the world that searches for us. God's mercy pursues us, especially when we are lost or alone or seemingly without hope. "Or what woman having ten silver coins, if she loses one of them, does not light a lamp, sweep the house, and search carefully until she finds it?"
