Advent and Time

Even though Advent is coming to a close, it is still upon us. And therefore there still is plenty of time to rededicate ourselves to the Lord and our Catholic faith. No matter where we are in our relationship with the Lord there is always more to go, closer we can be to Him. We must always keep in mind that we can never become complacent with our friendship with Christ.

The Lord must occupy the first place in our lives, and if this is so, all of our other relationships will be more fruitful. We don't limit our other relationships by giving ourselves to the Lord; rather it is through our complete communion with Jesus that our hearts are expanded and we are able to love others more and be loved by others more. Sometimes in our hectic lives often burdened with great concern and worry it is hard for us to see that our priority should still be our relationship with the Lord. But it is true.

Like anything else that is important to us, time more than anything else is the currency we spend to show what and who we value. The more time we spend on something or someone, the more important the person or thing is to us. Perhaps a good meditation we can use during our final Advent preparation for the coming of Jesus at Christmas is to reflect on our use of time. How much time do we spend on things and people? How much time do we spend with and or for the Lord? Is the manner in which we spend the precious resource of our time consistent with the way we describe to others what is important to us? Prayerful and honest consideration of these questions will provide a good insight into our hearts and the people and things we value.

As the saying goes, "show me the money"; in this case it's more "show me the time". The concrete, practical steps we take on how we use our time will be the evidence we show in how we adjust the list of who and what takes priority in our lives.

There is nothing the Lord wants more that to be the center of our lives. There is nothing greater for us than for the Lord to be the center of our lives. As we continue our Advent preparation, may we be open to this awareness so that we can provide a welcoming heart at the arrival of our Lord Jesus.

God bless you,
Father Joseph Byerley

Reception of the Sacrament of Confirmation

December 7th, 2014

“You will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you; and you will be my witnesses...” (Acts 8:1)

Last Sunday, 56 of our young people received the gift of the Holy Spirit at Confirmation. It is our hope that the full power and love of the Holy Spirit, received at Confirmation, will encourage and inspire these young people to an ever deeper relationship with the Lord and a greater readiness to serve God and their neighbor. Please lift them up in your prayers that the Spirit’s actions may bear great fruit in their lives.

Spiritual Center Library

Some people say their audio cassette library has had a bigger influence on their life than any other educational resource. One reason is that great speakers, wise teachers, superb musicians and vocalists are available at YOUR convenience and can be listened to over and over if need be. Another is the convenience of being anywhere, such as in the office, in the house, outdoors, or even in the car, yet you are able to listen to something that really interests you. Interruptions, annoyances and commotions are hard to control but with a cassette you can play it when things have settled down, and stop at any point necessary. You can repeat over and over something you do not understand. Good music encourages relaxation, meditation and even sleep. In our Spiritual Center Library, we have an amazing collection of Christmas music on cassettes and CDs. The following is a sample list of a few of our cassettes: Mario Lanza and Arthur Fiedler's Christmas Classics, Great Voices of Christmas, Vol 1 and 2, The Christmas Angel by the Mannheim Steam Rollers, Handel's Messiah, Baby Christ is Born Today with Father Kryz and the Happy Children, Merry Christmas with Bing Crosby, Joy to the World with Kate Smith, The Christmas Album with Andy Williams, A Christmas Festival with the Jubilate Deo Choir, and Joy to the World with Burl Ives, Bobby Vinton and Mitch Miller. Visit our Parish Library for cassettes, CDs, books, videos, and DVDs for the Advent-Christmas season.
