We are very grateful to the Bisbee Porcella Funeral Home and to Paul and Mary Ciccarelli for their very generous gifts which enabled us to refurbish the two shrine areas. Paul created, stained and finished the four pedestals, the two radiator covers and the molding around the windows, and the molding at the top and bottom of the walls. We are very grateful for the fine craftsmen, Steve Nelson, John Tambeau, Bob Pizzano, and Charlie Turgiss who Paul employed to finish and paint the walls, and install the woodwork and the rug. May these two areas continue to be a source of comfort and prayer for those who use them.

Annual Diocesan Baby Shower

Once again, St. Margaret will be holding it's Annual Baby Shower sponsored by the Pro-Life Office and St. Margaret. The Baby Shower will be held the week-end of Mother's Day, May 9 and 10th. If you would like to donate any baby items, you may bring them to St. Margaret that weekend or leave them on the front porch of the rectory that weekend. We thank you for generous support in the past.

St. Margaret's Yard Sale

It is almost time for our Annual Indoor Yard Sale to be held on May 30th from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. If you have anything that you would like to donate, please leave it in the front porch of St. Margaret's rectory or on any Saturday in May in the lower church hall. We DO NOT TAKE computers, televisions, furniture, air conditioners, appliances, VCRs or clothes. This is a St. Margaret fundraiser, all proceeds will stay at the church.

Dear Friends,
Thank you all so much for your donations for the Walk for HAWC. With your help, I was able to raise more than my set goal.

Thanks Again,
Katy Vail

From the Pastor:

Many years ago now I remember hearing the Spiritual Director say to me; always remember the voice of the Lord. The passages that talk of the Good Shepherd remind me of the quote. Once when I was directing a retreat one of my directees told me a story of a shepherd and his sheep. She told me that there was a time in which she did not like the imagery of a shepherd and his sheep. She disliked being compared to a dumb animal. At one point in her life she was in Holy Land making a retreat and she told the director of her feeling about the imagery. He asked her to follow him. He took her out into the country and asked her to sit. She asked for what and he said just sit. Eventually she saw some shepherds and their sheep coming from various directions. The shepherds gathered together and talked and the sheep grazed and mingled. When it was time to leave the shepherds called their sheep and the sheep divided themselves and followed the voice they were familiar with. In the gospel we hear Jesus say, "I am the good shepherd, and I know mine and mine know me."

The question that presents itself to us is; do we know the voice of the shepherd and are we willing to follow it? Some of you may know that I have a small dog. He is now three years old. He follows me around, everywhere I go he wants to be. After he wanders off, obviously within the confines of a defined space, he comes back to check that I am still there. After playing and razing havoc he knows that my lap is a safe place to rest. He responds to his name and I believe he recognizes my voice and my footsteps. Yet as any pampered pet he tries to see what he can get away with. He knows the word, "No" but tries to push it as far as he can. He has come to recognize other commands but whether he responds to the command in the way it is expected is up for grabs. Over the past three years the relationship has developed and I suspect will continue to develop. What am I looking for in a dog? Companionship. What do I want for the dog, health? safety. Why do I set certain rules and have definite expectations; to ensure the above and to have him behave in a manner that respects other peoples' rights and space. Do you come to love the dog? Definitely. Are you disappointed when he does not behave? Of course. Do you continue to try to help him become the dog you believe he can be? Sure.

So today we are asked to look to ourselves in relationship to the shepherd. Some of us may not be like the imagery but the question is do we always listen to the voice or the command of the shepherd. We may ask, why should we? What does Jesus want for us? He wants us all to be what we were created to be. He wants us to live to our full potential. The commandments were given to help people live within certain expectations to help them become all that they were created to be. His earthly life was to show us that the commandments are rooted in love and that they are the key to fulfillment. So in our ever-deepening relationship with God where are we? Are we the young pet that wanders off but comes back to rest in the lap when we need it or are we the adult pet who always wants to please the master? Are we somewhere in between? As parents you know what you want for your children. As pet owners you know what you want for your pets. God knows what he wants for us.

Fr. Tim
